IN THE BEE TO-DAY

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

U. S. Department of Agriculture,
Weather Bureau,
Toledo, O., June 16, 1892.

The storm which was central over the Dakotas has decreased in energy and is central over Iowa. It has caused rains and local thunder storms over Montana, the Dakotas, Minesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, and portions of Kansas, Nebraska and western Michigan. The advance of this low area of pressure will continue to cause high temperatures until it passes to the eastward, and cooler weather will only be had at places where local thunder storms occur.

There is a high area of pressure over the Atlantic states that has caused cooler weather over that section of country. A second area of high pressure is advancing from Manitoba which has caused the temperature to fall from 10 to 20 degrees over Minnesota and North Dakota. Minedosa reports a temperature of 32 degrees.

The weather continues very warm over the eastern and southern portion of the country and will continue so for 48 hours or more.

Forecast for Toledo and vicinity for next 36 hours—Generally fair, with local showers; slight change in temperature.

E. A. HANNER, Observer.

Forecast for Indiana and Illinois—Local thunderstorms; southerly winds; probably cooler on Friday.

For lower Michigan—Local showers to-night; clearing on Friday; cooler; variable winds.

For upper Michigan—On Friday generally fair; easterly winds; slightly warmer.

For Wisconsin—Showers to-night; clearing on Friday; northwesterly winds; cooler Friday morning, followed by rising temperature.

For Ohio—Increasing cloudiness; probably local rains; variable winds; slightly cooler Friday.

ARE ON THE ROAD.

Democratic Pilgrims From Over the Land

Are Bound for the National Convention.

Senator Vest is Opposed to Cleveland.

Hill Men Flocking to the West.

Boies' Boom Comes in From Iowa in the Hands of Trusted and Able Lieutenants.

Chicago, June 16.—There is every evidence that the Grand Pacific will be the scene of nearly as great excitement and strain as the Palmer or Auditorium in the convention Graeco-Roman wrestling match. Nearly all of the ante-convention comers congregate there now, and it is the center of some highly interesting preliminary reports and gossip. One of the busiest of the early arrivals is that able journalist and stanch Cleveland lieutenant, Col. John Tracy, who is installed in room 133 with several typewriters, where he is turning out news, preparing lists of delegates and headquarters and doing an immense amount of preliminary work.

One of the rumors floating around the Grand Pacific, and in which Cleveland men take considerable stock, is to the effect that indications are hourly growing that the Hill-Tammany people will not find themselves in an enemy's country without friends upon their arrival in Chicago.

There is and has been for a long time a strong probability that the Cook county democracy and their majority of interests would strike hands with Tammany and go over to Hill in a body.

The recent visit of a prominent Cook county leader to New York and Washington, and his conference with the Hill managers is said to presage this. Since his return he has been heard to remark: "Hill is the man if we can get him. He is a democrat and a fighter, and never loses."

A great deal of quiet missionary work has been done among the rank and file, and the word has been passed along to talk Cleveland but mean Hill.

The apathy attending Gen. Palmer's interests and the very apparent collapse of his late "boom" is easily attributable to this change of heart among his former most ardent local supporters.

One of the surprises awaiting the convention may be to see nearly one-half of the Illinois delegation voting with the New York early convention delegates for Hill on the first ballot.

While they yet feel friendly to Senator Palmer, his ardent local supporters claim that he made a foolish move at the Springfield convention in throwing away his chances for an instructed delegation on account of his friendship for Cleveland, and that his action absolves his friends from any allegiance to him if in their judgment they can join a new movement, and by so doing advance their own interests.

"You can bet the Cook county boys will be in the swim and with the winners at the close, whichever way it goes," said a well-known county democracy man this morning. "We are going to give the Tammany boys a good time, for they are the right sort, and we are with them."

HILL AND GRAY.

Labor Statistics Commissioner Peck Discourses on the Combination.

Chicago, June 16.—Charles F. Peck, New York's commissioner of statistics, is at the Auditorium, and Senator Hill has in him a worker who will carry sure conviction to the souls of faltering delegates. In his opinion Grover Cleveland is dead politically and by figures he shows that the ex-president has with each campaign in which he has been engaged lost heavily.

On the other hand he cites statistics to show that David B. Hill has grown in the hearts of his constituents, which is proof positive to him that the one available candidate for the presidency in the democratic party is the Elmira statesman.

Mr. Peck's ticket is Hill of New York, and Gray of Indiana. With that ticket, which he contends is representative of practical politics, he is positive the democracy will once more assume the reins of government.

If, on the other hand, Grover is nominated, Harrison he believed would carry New York by over 50,000 majority. In conclusion Mr. Peck said: "I am friendly to both men, but I am concerned for the welfare of the democratic party.

"Cleveland has proved a losing candidate, while Hill has been constantly winning fresh laurels in each campaign in which he has been engaged.

"He is the idol of organized labor, and with the 250,000 labor voters in New York state he can carry it and the country by a large majority. I do not think any other candidate will be considered in the convention.

"He wants the nomination, and he is candid enough to say so. He has scored a success every time thus far and he'll be the nominee of the convention."

LOUISIANA DEMOCRATS.

The Two Factions have Agreed on a Compromise.

Baton Rouge, La., June 16.—According to the terms agreed upon by the conference committees and ratified by the respective conventions, the state central committee, of which Mr. Wilkinson is chairman, is recognized as the regular democratic authority in this state.

The McEnerytie members, who were elected in parishes, are entitled to their seats in the convention. The question of the members at large on the state central committee came up. Opposition was made to a division of the number, because Mr. Wilkinson did not wish to place them in the position of having to take some of his men down; so it was decided to add ten members at large to the committee, to be appointed from the ranks of the McEnerytes, thus giving each side an equal number of members.

Primaries are to be ordered in the different parishes where there are dual parish committees, to decide which element of the party is entitled to control. The delegation to Chicago will be elected half by each convention.

The same plan will prevail as to the presidential electors. In parishes or wards where there are dual committees, if there is any settlement of the differences by September, the members of the state central committees from the parishes or wards shall order the election of delegates to the congressional convention in November.

At the presidential election reorganization, there is to be an entire organization of committees in each parish in New Orleans on the day of the presidential election, will be held a primary to elect a new parish committee, which is to be the regular democratic convention. Mr. Wilkinson remains chairman of the state central committee.

The following were elected delegates to Chicago:

At large—John Fitzpatrick, E. B. Kruttschmidt, Charles W. Boatmar, F. C. Zacharie.

First district—Thomas Duffey, W. H. Rogers; Second district, A. F. Crandall, E. P. McCaleb; Third district, J. Tyron, H. C. Drew; Fourth district, H. W. Ogden, James Jeffries; Fifth district, A. S. Caldwell, John R. Phipps; Sixth district, M. M. Robertson, T. J. Kernna.

Presidential electors at large—T. Green, Don Caffery.

First district, A. L. Tisson; Second, Joseph C. Gilmore; Third, Cabe Montague; Fourth, A. Bell; Fifth, O. B. Steele; Sixth, O. B. Fontenott.

CAMPAIGN ORATORY.

Will Flow With Unusual Eloquence this Fall.

Washington, June 16.—It is regarded as doubtful whether either of the republican candidates will "swing the circle," to use a political phrase, in the coming campaign. President Harrison made quite a number of speeches in Indiana and other states in the campaign of 1888, but some of his friends are now inclined to hold that it would be undignified for him now, as president, to take a prominent part in the coming campaign in his own behalf.

On the other hand there are those who argue that it would be eminently statesman-like for him to make a tour of the country, expounding and defending the actions and course of his administraion during the past four years, and commending it to the careful consideration of those who vote November next.

The fact is cited that even so staid a statesman and such a stickler for form as Mr. Gladstone, has never hesitated to enter actively into an English campaign in behalf of the return of himself and party to power, and this precedent, it is held, is a good one.

So far as Whitelaw Reid is concerned, it is very certain that the occasions upon which he is heard will be few and far between. This is not because he is not a good speaker, but because he suffers from a chronic affection of the throat which makes it impossible for him to address public gatherings very often, or for any length of time.

There will, however, be no lack of oratory in the campaign, for even before the newly elected national committee had temporarily organized at Minneapolis its members had been deluged with offers from prominent republican speakers in all parts of the country to go on the stump under its auspices for so much a week.

A BOOM FOR BOIES.

Iowa's Advance Guard is on the Scene.

Chicago, June 16.—The Boies boom has arrived. Four tired and dusty, but energetic, young Iowans are at the Palmer house. They were shown to room 19, where they located their boom and hung its banner—otherwise a lithograph—on the outer wall.

The body-guard of four, which the boom says comprises simply the scouts of its great army of Iowans, were relieved from duty, and after they had gone out to see the city, the boom said to the reporter: "We're here for business. We came early to get acquainted with the town, and also to catch on to a good location. This room is pretty good, and it is destined, my boy, to be the scene of a war council which will nominate Boies for president on the democratic ticket, and, of course, that insures his election.

"Why, next week we'll have 20,000 Iowans here, strong-hearted, earnest fighters, who love and honor Boies, and who will leave no stone unturned to win our battle.

"We are gaining strength daily, aye hourly. From east and west, from north and south, comes the encouraging news that other states, gratified with our success in the Hawkeye territory, will work to place us in a large field of usefulness.

"We can carry Iowa, New York, Indiana, Wisconsin and perhaps Nebraska. We can poll a great republican vote, and more than that, we will have the undivided support of the democratic party, which is a great consideration.

"We are the first to open headquarters here, we have a good staff with us in our body-guard, which comprises Col. L. M. Martin, of DesMoines, delegate-at-large; Dr. E. T. Likes, H. C. Staver, of the DesMoines Leader, and Ed. H. Hunter, chairman of the executive committee; Senator Shields, chairman of the delegation; Hon. M. M. Ham, of the Dubuque Herald; Judge Kinne and others will be here to-day and then we will be in full swing. Oh, we are the people and we're going to get there in great shape."

"But havn't Illinois' sons, Palmer and Morrison, any chance?" asked the reporter.

"Oh, they're pretty good people," was the answer, "but they're not in the swim. They are both good men, but they are not available for the position. We can lead the party to success. Iowa has been waiting many, many years for recognition on a national ticket, and in this Columbian year of 1892 the glorious old Hawkeye state is coming to the front with a presidential candidate who will sweep the country."

The interview was ended, and, while the reporter tripped lightly down stairs, the boom proceeded to welcome other callers.

HENRY VILLARD,

The Ex-Newspaper Man and Financier, is on Hand.

Chicago, June 16.—Henry Villard, the Northern Pacific railroad magnate, arrived here this afternoon and took up his quarters at the Auditorium, where a suite of rooms had been reserved for his occupancy.

The ex-newspaper man and now financial magnate is an active adherent of ex-President Cleveland, as was recently evidenced by his subscription of $1,000 to the anti-Hill committee in New York. It is expected that he will be able to exercise a good deal of influence with western and northwestern delegates in favor of the ex-president, and the story comes from New York that in the event of the latter's nomination Villard will stand pledged to raise anywhere from $200,000 to $250,000 for campaign purposes.

SENATOR VEST.

He's Afraid Cleveland Can't Carry New York.

Chicago, June 16.—A rumor is current that Senator Vest of Missouri has abandoned the Cleveland forces, to which it had hitherto been understood that he belonged.

Mr. Vest was asked to define his position, in view of the amount of talk which had occurred, and he said: "I am not in Chicago on political business, nor do I propose to attend the convention, but I am a democrat, and I want to see my party nominate a democrat who can be elected.

"For that reason, and in view of this talk, I am apprehensive that Mr. Cleveland cannot carry the state of New York. This most unfortunate fight in our party in that state makes me fear that we will lose it unless we go outside of it for a candidate.

I have felt this apprehension ever since I understood how deep and bitter was the feeling between the two sections of the organization, and I speak of it now because the time has come that I feel the democratic party has a right to ask an expression of opinion from every democrat. My feelings towards Mr. Cleveland have never changed. I regard him now with the same respect and confidence and friendship that I have ever felt; but I doubt his power to carry his state."

"How will the Missouri delegation vote, Senator?"

"Solidly for Cleveland. There can be no question about it. The people of Missouri want him nominated, and some of them have become almost angry with me whenever I suggested the possibility of his losing New York."

"How widely is your apprehension shared in other delegations?"

"I know nothing about the feeling in any state but Missouri."

"Who can carry New York for the democracy?"

"Any good democrat out of New York, or perhaps Flower in that state. The nominee of the convention should carry New York. It is a democratic state, and we will carry it if the republicans cannot produce a split in our ranks."

THE CONTESTS.

The Convention Will Have to Deal with Several.

Chicago, June 16.—Secretary of the national committee, Mr. Sharin, has learned of only four reported contests, and the information in these cases came indirectly, there being no requirement that the delegations should file papers with the national committee whenever contests are to arise, the committee officially knowing nothing of them.

The principal contest, aside from the fight in New York between the February and May convention delegations, will come from Louisiana, where there is a hot fight between rival organizations arising out of the lottery question.

One district in Pennsylvania is also the subject of contest, and from the District of Columbia, Norris and Davis come here as the regulars, and opposed to them are William Dickson, a member of the national committee, and one associate. The former are Cleveland and the latter anti-Cleveland men.

In Florida an ugly fight threatened to develop, but it was averted by the patching up of difficulties under an agreement that each side should have one-half a vote each.

Instead of the democratic national committee reporting a prima facie or temporary roll, what will be done here will be to have the roll of states called and each state will respond in turn.

Tickets to the seats are turned over to the national committeeman for each state and distributed by him. The records of the preceding conventions of the democratic party show that it has been quite customary for states having contests when they are reached in the roll call to request that they be passed, and that no members of the committee on credentials and other committees be appointed from such a state pending a final determination by the credentials committee and the conventions of the persons entitled to the seats.

In this way a state does not become the judge of its own case.

In New York state the conditions of the contest are extraordinary, and it is not known here whether or not the usual method will be followed or the regular elected delegates take part in organization and ignore the claims of the anti-Cleveland men. But with this the national committee will have nothing to do.

Speaking of this matter, Secretary Sharin said: "Mr. Canda and I have a great deal to attend to, but it is all executive and not political, and if it were not for the tickets, placing of seats, etc., we could all go out and play ball."

PACIFIC DEMOCRATS.

California's Delegation Bound for Chicago.

San Francisco, June 16.—The California delegates to the national convention at Chicago left here in a special train, which had been decorated with flags and bunting.

The trip will be made over the Central Pacific, Union Pacific, Quincy and Chicago and Northwestern roads. Stops will be made at Sacramento and at Reno and other points in Nevada, where the Nevada delegates will join the party, and on reaching Ogden at 7 p. m. Thursday, the Utah, Idaho and Montana delegates will be taken aboard.

Cheyenne will be reached at 4:25 p. m. Friday. There the Colorado and Wyoming delegats will be added to the party, so that the train, on leaving Council Bluffs, will consist of at least ten cars.

The delegates will arrive at Chicago at 7:15 a. m. Sunday next, and the California delegation will make its headquarters at the Auditorium. One of the cars leaving here was filled with the product of well known California vineyards.

WHITNEY NOT IN IT.

The ex-Secretary Writes a Public Card.

Lowell, Mass., June 16.—The Evening Star received the following autograph letter from ex-Secretary of the Navy Whitney:

New York, June 14.

"Dear Sir: Many thanks for your kind thoughts of me and your flattering words, but I must say to you in all seriousness that I not only am not a candidate, but have told my friends in such a way that they understand it, and no one will work for me. I do not wish the nomination. No lieutenant of Mr. Cleveland's, particularly one who is so well known to the managers of the party as I am, can take the nomination. He would instantly be charged with scheming for himself, and for that reason, if no other, I would say positively if I thought it necessary, that I would not take it if it were tendered me. It will not be, because I have tied the hands of all my friends, if for no other reason. I appreciate your friendship, but this is the truth, and there is nothing under the bush. Yours truly,

"W. C. WHITNEY.

THE FIRST BALLOT.

Cleveland Men Prepare a Counter Table to the Hill Figures.

New York, June 16.—The Herald says: The anti-Hill democrats found a topic for reflection in the table printed, setting forth the claims of the senator's friends upon each state delegation.

It was the general opinion of the Cleveland men and many other democrats not allied with either factions that the regulars were indulging in a game of "bluff" in the hope of frightening off some weak-kneed supporters of the ex-president.

The claim of 314 votes on the first ballot made by Hill's supporters seemed preposterous to his opponents. E. Ellery Anderson, one of the leaders in the May convention movement yesterday gave out a table of votes that they are counting upon for the first ballot.

The table gives Cleveland, 500, Hill, 260, Carlisle 34, Palmer 48, Boies 26, Gray 60. These figures reduce the Hill vote from 314, as the Hill men had it, to 260, and place the Cleveland strength at 500. Mr. Anderson gives Gray Indiana's 30 votes, while that state instructed its delegates to vote for Cleveland on the first ballot and Gray afterward.

With this 30 in the Cleveland column, he would have, according to the figures of his friends, about the vote that has been generally regarded as assuredly his, though not so great as many of his friends have at times confidently claimed. Mr. Anderson said yesterday that he would not admit that all of the votes in the Hill column were really for the senator, but he placed them there because they were conceded to be anti-Cleveland.

OFF FOR THE WEST.

Democratic Statesmen Leaving the National Capital.

Washington, June 16.—The flight of democratic statesmen to Chicago has already begun, and during the next two or three days a good many will leave to take a hand in the convention either as delegates or to assist in bringing outside pressure.

Senator Gorman and others leave to-day. The feeling here seems to be that Cleveland will be nominated. His friends do not think it will be possible for any combination to defeat him.

A few are shouting for Hill, but unless all signs fail the New York senator has not the ghost of a chance.

The cry for a "good western man" attracts some attention, but judging from the chatter of democratic politicians in Washington, Cleveland is still the man of destiny. Congressman Tracy, of New York, said to-day that beyond a doubt Cleveland would get the necessary two-thirds on the first ballot. He even thought it possible that the ex-president would be nominated by acclamation.

There will be a small attendance in both branches of congress during the next ten days. Not less than two dozen democratic senators and 50 members of the house will go to Chicago. During their absence little business will be done.

TOLEDO RAILROAD MEN

Have a Big Time at St. Clair Flats

And at Mt. Clemens at the Central Traffic Association Meeting Yesterday.

The Toledo members of the Central Traffic association are back at their desks again this morning, after a pleasant two days' outing. On receipt of an invitation from the Rushmere club, the meeting of the association was held at the palatial club house on St. Clair flats.

The railroad men present were Frank Jones, of the Pennsylvania, A. E. Billings, of the Lake Shore, W. H. Bennett, of the Ann Arbor, C. T. Wright, of the B. and O., Frank Foster, of the Kanawha Dispatch, C. C. Gridley, of the Hocking Valley, and Wm. S. Weed, of the Clover Leaf.

The business was rushed through in short order. Nothing was done affecting Toledo. After lunch yesterday E. R. Agnew, proprietor of the Avery house, Mt. Clemens, came down on his steam yacht Roberto and took 40 of the railroad men across Lake St. Clair and up the Clinton river to Mt. Clemens, where they were royally entertained at the Avery.

It was a most enjoyable trip and everything was as free as water. The next meeting will also be in the nature of an outing, for Hotel Victory, at Put-in-Bay, will be thrown open to the railroaders, July 12.

ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

More Officers Than Privates at the Meeting.

Scranton, Pa., June 16.—There are more men of titles than privates registered at the hotels to attend the society of the Army of the Potomac. Gen. Butterfield presided at the business session, and Treasurer Truesdale's report for the year, showing a very small expenditure, was submitted. After the selection of Boston as the next place of meeting, and amending the constitution so that members of the navy who acted in conjunction with the army of the Potomac might be admitted as members, the election of officers occurred.

For president there were presented Gen. Edwin S. Osborne, of Wilkesbarre, Pa.; Gen. Horace Porter, Gen. David McMurtrie Gregg, auditor general of Pennsylvania, and Gen. Calvin Pratt, of Brooklyn. The vote was: Porter, 76, Pratt 19; Gregg, 17, and Osborne, 15. Other officers elected were: Vice president, Brevet Maj. Gen. E. G. Molineux, of the ninth army corps; secretary, Gen. Horatio C. King, of Brooklyn; corresponding secretary, Gen. George H. Sharpe, of Kingston, N. Y.; treasurer, Col. Truesdale, of New York.

The different army corps elected presidents as follows:

First, Maj. J. H. Stine, of Washington; second, Col. F. L. Hitchcock, of Scranton; third, Col. Wm. L. Chandler; fifth, Col. W. R. Smedling; sixth, Col. F. D. Butterfield; ninth, Maj. James Wren; eleventh, Gen. John T. Lochman; twelfth, Brevet Maj. Edward P. Graves; nineteenth, Brevet Maj Gen. E. L. Molineux; cavalry, Maj. Gen. C. H. Smith; signal corps, Lieut. Col. C. Paine.

On motion of Gen. McMahon, the presidents of the different corps were selected to secure funds to erect a monument in honor of Gen. Wm. T. Sherman.

DID A NOBLE DEED.

A Fireman Risks His Life to Save a Child.

Norwalk, O., June 16.—(Special)—Wm. Simon, fireman on the Wheeling & Lake Erie road, engine 35, rescued a child named Taylor from death yesterday and thereby performed a noble and brave act.

The child was playing on the railroad track, near Garden street, this city. A heavy freight train was pulling up grade towards the child, but the little one was so engaged in its play that it did not notice the approach of the train.

The engineer did not see the child, but Fireman Simon, happened to look out of the cab window and quick as a flash he jumped from the engine, ran along ahead to where the child was and just as the pilot of the engine reached the little one, he snatched her from the track and threw her into the grass alongside the track.

He then, unconscious of the brave act he had performed in saving the child's life, ran ahead and jumped onto his engine as though nothing unusual had happened.

ST. MARYS HAPPENINGS.

St. Marys, O., June 16—(Special)—Pat O'Neil, engineer at the straw-board works, was badly burned this morning while lighting a gas under the furnace.

Wm. Boyer, engineer at the spoke works, was overcome by the heat this morning. He was lying on his face in the engine room when discovered, and was taken to his home in a critical condition.

THE ELKS.

Meeting Drawing to a Close and Delegates Leaving.

Buffalo, June 16.—The Elks' grand lodge and reunion will come to a close this evening. Already many delegations are taking their departure. The Grand Rapids people started for home last night. The Cleveland delegates will go to the Falls to-day and thence home. The Louisville lodge will do likewise. The New England Elks left last night via the Grand Trunk.

They will visit Montreal, Saratoga and other points of interest. They were serenaded just before leaving.

The Chicago boys are having such a good time they think of staying here until the world's fair opens.

The Chicago and Louisville delegations were princely entertained and kept open house for visitors day and night.

The selection of officers appears to give general satisfaction and everybody looks forward to a prosperous year.

There is already some campaigning for the following year and Hon. Percy G. Williams, of Brooklyn, is much talked of for grand ruler. The last session of the grand lodge opened at 10 o'clock this morning.

BIG PRINCE MICHAEL,

Wonderful Power He Holds Over His People.

If He Orders a Witness to Swear to a Lie

They Have to Go on the Stand and Do Exactly as He Has Said—The Trial at Ann Arbor.

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 16.—The intense heat this morning had no visible effect in decreasing the attendance at the trial of Prince Michael.

Joseph Daley, one of the leading mebers of the long-haired colony was the first witness. He outlined in great detail the daily life of the prince, even to the alleged fact that he does not use pepper, salt, meat, stimulants or anything calculated to excite his baser passions.

On cross-examination he was asked by the prosecution "if Prince Michael told you to take the stand and swear to a lie to shield him, you would do so, wouldn't you?" The iwtness tried to evade the question but finally replied "I think I would."

It was also brought out that Mike had not done a stroke of manual labor for over four years, and that he permitted the using of straight-jackets, handcuffs, etc., on his wife and other members of his colony.

"Lucifer," Durand testified that he received Michael into the church himself in 1888, and that he had never heard him utter an unchaste or profane word nor seen him commit an unchaste act. Daniel W. Taylor testified practically that same. Both the latter witnesses admitted that if Michael instructed them to say things which were not true they would do it.

There was a flutter of excitement when William H. Bechel, father of the wronged girl, was called to the stand to try to establish a good character for the man who was charged with accomplishing her ruin.

BIG PRICE.

Sucker Flat Zinc Mines Sold for Two Million.

St. Louis, June 16.—The Central Creek Mining company, of this city, which owns 219 acres on and near Webb City, Mo., embracing the Webb and Sucker Flat zinc mines, has just sold its rich mines for upwards of $2,000,000 to the Holland and London Investment company, of England, and John D. Rockefeller, of the Standard Oil company.

In connection with this sale it is rumored that the same capitalists have purchased the St. Louis Smelting and Refining company's works located here.

STRUCK A SWITCH ENGINE.

Bad Disaster Near Philadelphia.

A Fast Train Strikes a Locomotive With the Usual Fatal Results

Philadelphia, June 16.—A wreck occurred on the Northern Pennsylvania railroad last night which resulted in the killing of one man and the injury of several others.

The Doylestown express passes Fort Washington station at the rate of a mile a minute, the fastest made at any point along the road.

The Jenkintown shifter was running ahead of the passenger train, and in attempting to switch on the down track was caught by the engine of the express.

The express locomotive was thrown from the track against an embankment. Both engines were completely wrecked. The engineer of the express train, Wm. Fenton, was killed outright. Wm. Hudson, fireman, was badly scalded and injured internally. Oscar Barnes, baggagemaster, was also seriously injured. Theo Magill, the express messenger, was seriously injured and reported that he died while being brought to Philadelphia.

Several of the passengers who occupied seats in the smoking car were injured, but not dangerously. This car was turned upon its side and badly wrecked.

Among the injured passengers were George Hulzel, of Ambler, side bruised and cut about the head.

J. E. Bodine, of North Wales, rib broken and badly bruised.

John K. Williong, of North Wales, hurt about the hip.

W. L. Leonard, of Gwynnod, leg broken.

John Gustine, of Fort Washington, hand badly cut.

Conductor Harry Miller, of Landsdale, bruised and hands cut.

William Nice, of Webster, face scalded.

The engineer on the shifting engine, Patrick Dungan, had one of his hands badly cut.

The fireman of the engine was sitting on one of the bumpers when the collision occurred and was thrown a distance of 30 feet, but was not seriously injured.

ASCOT RACES.

Jardine's 3-year old bay or brown colt Rouge Dragon, by Ben D'Or out of Tiger Lilly, was third.

You can't believe some dealers always. They want to sell the medicine that pays them the largest profit. What you want to buy is the one that does you the most good. Which one is it? Sometimes, it may be a matter of doubt. But in the case of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, there's no room for doubt. It's a matter that can be proved.

With the facts before you, it's an insult to your intelligence to have something else offered as "just as good."

And here's the proof: Among all the medicines that claim to cure woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities, and diseases, the "Favorite Prescription" is the only one that's guaranteed.

If it doesn't do all that's claimed for it, if it doesn't benefit or cure, in every case, you'll have your money back.

There's strength and vigor for every tired and feeble woman, health and a new life for every delicate and ailing woman—and if there's no help, there's no pay.

CLOSE OF CONVENTION,

Delegates-at-large—Calvin S. Brice, James E. Campbell, L. T. Neal, Robert Blee.

Columbus, O., June 16.—(Special.)—The above is the splendid ticket placed in nomination by the democrats of Ohio at their state convention which closed here yesterday. The convention was an enthusiastic gathering of Buckeye democrats and the spirit displayed showed that they intend to go into the fight to make a strong battle.

The platform was greeted with hearty enthusiasm and its democratic strength was shown by the applause the various planks received. The platform in full is as follows:

First—That confiding in the careful judgment of the national democratic convention about to assemble in Chicago, we hereby pledge our earnest and cordial support of the nominee for president and vice president, hoping to see glorious and lasting victory as the result of its intelligent action. We are opposed to all class legislation, and believe in a tariff levied for the sole purpose of producing a revenue sufficient to defray the legitimate expenses of the government economically administered, and we protest against the policy of so-called protection illustrated by the McKinley bill as championed by the republican party, and in the interests of agriculture and labor we demand a reform of the present tariff and a reduction of unnecessary and burdensome taxation.

That in the high tariff recently imposed by certain European nations on American grain and American meat we recognize an effort on the part of these governments to strike a destructive blow at American agriculture in retaliation for the high duties imposed by the McKinley law, and that on behalf of American agriculture we demand of congress an immediate modification of our tariff law, such as will secure the admission of these products into the markets of these countries free from duty. The democratic party has always favored the use of both gold and silver as money, and restored to the people the silver dollar of our fathers which a republican congress demonetized in 1873. Denouncing the Sherman act of 1890 as false in principle and dangerous in practice, and believing that both gold and silver should both circulate as money with parity maintained and with equal rights and equal value. We submit to the wisdom of the democratic party about to assemble in national convention to declare the method by which that end may be reached.

The hypocrisy of the republican party in the demand in the recent national convention for the right of every citizen of the United States to cast one free and unrestricted ballot and to have it counted is made most manifest by its almost uniform opposition to the Australian method of voting recently adopted in Ohio and most of the northern states and on the other hand its advocacy, as an illustrative measure of the infamous force bill designed to suppress by violence the elective franchise in nearly one-half the country.

We call the attention of the country to the deplorable fact lately ascertained from republican official sources of undoubted authority that the success of that party at the last presidential election was due to the expenditure of $1,000,000 in corrupting the ballot in the pivotal states and not to the alleged beneficial results of a protective tariff, as claimed by the republican leaders.

The 70th general assembly of Ohio, with its republican majority of two-thirds in both branches, will go down in the history of the state as the most inefficient, incompetent and profligate of any legislature ever chosen in Ohio. Its action in repealing and altering important and wholesome legislation enacted in the interests of the people by the democratic legislature which preceded it, in failing and refusing to enact important measures demanded by the people, in creating local indebtedness aggregating more than $10,000,000, in creating additional public offices to provide positions for favorites, in increasing the salary of certain state officers, in so redistricting the state for congressional purposes as to disfranchise nearly one-fourth of the electors of the state in the selection of representatives in the national congress, and for other acts of malfeasance, should bring upon it the severest condemnation of the people of the state.

The interest of humanity and the material welfare of our public institutions demand that the hand of the partisan shall be removed from the benevolent and charitable institutions of the state, and to the improvement of the present conditions the democratic party hereby pledges its most earnest efforts.

We favor liberal and just pensions to deserving and disabled soldiers and sailors who fought for the maintenance of the government, and like pensions to their widows and orphan children.

That the federal government, under the last democratic administration, was so wisely, economically and patriotically administered as to commend the party to the confidence and support of the American people, and to entitle it, in the interests of good government to a return to power.

Minneapolis, June 16.—Three hundred people saw Toledo defeat Minneapolis yesterday in a very exciting game. Armour got two hits and made a double play from right to second on what seemed to be a line base hit. Ely's two home runs had much to do with winning the game.

A LADY'S EXPERIENCE

After Her Husband HAD SPENT ALL HE WAS WORTH.

GADSDEN, ALA., Dec. 21, 1890.

DR. J. B. MARCHISI, Utica, N. Y.

Dear Sir: About one year ago I was near my grave with nervous debility, caused by Ulcer of the Womb. My husband spent all he was worth and all he could make for doctors' bills, and I continued to weaken until my physician told me I could not live sixty days, and that all the doctors in the State could not save my life. A friend persuaded me to try Dr. Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon. I have taken three bottles and now am as stout as ever. Have gained from 98 to 163 pounds, and can do as much work as I could at sixteen.

MRS. AMELIA H. BOX.

Dr. Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon and Cleansing Wash will cure any kind of female complaint no matter how severe or how long standing. It not only cures the disease, but builds up the strength creating a natural appetite, giving color to the cheeks and the sparkle of health to the eye. My remedies are for sale by all druggists.

I send to those who desire to test its merits, two bottles free, and thus prove it does do what I claim for it.

DR. J. B. MARCHISI, UTICA, N. Y.

CAUTION: DR. J. B. MARCHISI, 55 Genesee St., UTICA, N. Y.

WITH AWFUL FURY

A Storm Sweeps Over the Canadian Provinces.

Ste. Rose, Que., June 16.—At the pretty little village of Ste. Rose, a fashionable summer resort near Montreal, the residents noticed the darkened clouds gathering on the horizon. Suddenly there was a low, sullen roar, and in the twinkling of an eye the light of day was changed into the blackness of night, and a terrible cyclone struck the village, carrying everything before it.

Houses were carried away, huge trees were torn from their very roots, animals were literally carried away by the wind and deposited in fields acres distant.

Two miles from the village was a school. Here 25 children were being taught by their young teacher, Miss La Caisse. The pitiless cyclone struck the small wooden school house, tearing it to pieces like a match box. The little students were scattered like leaves and Miss La Caisse received a blow on the head which stunned her, and she was found in the ruins of the building. She received serious injuries about the head and spine, and her chances of recovery are considered doubtful. The children were carried in all directions by the wind, and in some cases set down in adjacent fields. Out of the 25 children two were dead when found, one died shortly after, 12 were seriously wounded, and the remainder are more or less wounded. The killed are: Wilfred Ouimet, aged 7, the son of a prominent resident of Ste. Rose; Julie Jolly, aged 6, and Stanislaus Daubien, aged 8. The bodies of the children were terribly disfigured. In addition to the killed, the following are not expected to live: Ernestine Ouimet, serious internal injuries; Edouard Ouimet, severely injured; Edouard Gascon, serious injuries to the head and spine; Amelie Cadeux, broken arm and spine badly injured.

THE HAPPY HOME

Of the Little Orphans of Lucas County.

One Hundred and Eight Children Tenderly Cared For—A Day's Experiences.

On an eminence commanding a magnificent view of the surrounding country, with its mossy banks sloping down to the river's edge, stand the beautiful buildings of the Lucas County Children's home, where the county's orphans are receiving the care and instruction that will make them good American citizens.

Yesterday morning a party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Rood, with their guests, Mrs. Maggie Yokes, of Cleveland, and Mr. Wm. Durham, of Ravenna; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Cooke, Mr. S. C. Schenck, Mrs. Julia R. Seney, Mrs. Julia P. Cole and a Bee boarded the steamer C. B. Wallace, and after an hour's ride reached the landing at Miami, where a team in waiting, conveyed the visitors to the home.

They received a cordial welcome from the new superintendent and matron, Mr. and Mrs. John K. Neiss, and found Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Englehardt, Mr. J. L. Pray, of Toledo, and Mrs. E. Van Rensselaer, of Maumee, had preceded them.

The occasion was the visit of the commissioners and advisory board, to inspect the home under its new management, and to say that the inspectors were pleased, is putting it very mildly, indeed.

Not only the administration building, but every room in the other buildings, were spotlessly clean, cosy and comfortable. Mr. and Mrs. Neiss have been in charge three months, and in this short time a transformation has been made in the arrangements and workings of the home, which seem almost fairy-like to the uninitiated, but besides their many other qualifications the superintendents have had nine years' experience in the conducting of institutions of this kind, and the result of this ripe experience is seen in the orderly management and in the healthy, happy condition of the children, not one sick child in a family of 108.

The visitors were taken to the main dining room where the children were eating their dinner—good, wholesome food, and an abundance of it—and a more quiet, courteous lot of children cannot be found in Toledo.

Dinner was then served in the administration building for the guests, which was a bountiful repast, daintily served. After dining, a tour of the rooms was made, which lasted over two hours, giving some idea of what a matron's task is, when her watchful eye must be on all these numerous departments.

The children entertained the visitors with songs, recitations, exercises, etc., giving a part of the Children's Day cantata, "Over Life's Sea," a miniature ship with sails spread, and flags waving, being a part of the decoration for the Children's Day service, which was given last Sunday.

In the nursery are 13 dear little babies, their sweet, happy faces evidencing the careful attention they receive. There is a noticeable absence of the careworn, old faces so often seen in orphans' homes.

In the boys' as well as the girls' dormitories, the long rows of snowy beds are nicely made, though the boys are their own chambermaids. The reading and sitting rooms are pretty, and children's periodicals and papers are abundant; however, any person charitably disposed, could donate books and papers that would furnish proper reading matter for children, and such favors would be appreciated.

The wants of the home are numerous, and the superintendent submitted a list which the commissioners will consider and attend to.

One of the urgent needs, not on the list, is a flag which can be hoisted in the morning and lowered at night; which will teach the children patriotism and love for the stars and stripes. The advisory board, Mesdames Saney, Cole and Cooke, will take the matter in hand, and hope to invite friends of the home to a flag-raising very soon.

And after this extensive, but not exhaustive tale of the day's experiences the half has not been told.

The kitchen, bake room, laundry, dry room and engine room each deserve a description, being perfect in every detail, but to realize the "glories" of this home, a visit is imperative.

The party took the 4 o'clock boat for Toledo, and while waiting its arrival, "scaled the heights" of Fort Miami, and standing on the historic spot, the associations that cling around it conjured up strange pictures of war and warriors bold. And thus dreaming, we reach Toledo and mingle with the stream of cars and pedestrians. A delightful and memorable day is ended.

TOLEDO METHODISTS.

The Close of the Session at Weston.

A High Compliment Paid to Presiding Elder Pope—Some Resolutions.

Weston, O., June 16.—(Special)—On Tuesday evening the choir sang an anthem and Rev. A. B. Leonard led the conference in prayer, after which the 935th hymn, "Watchman, Tell Me of the Night," was sung.

Mrs. R. W. Munson was then introduced and gave her experiences in the far East.

Rev. R. W. Munson followed with vivid descriptions of their work in Singapore, of its trials and triumphs. The lectures were both illustrated by various costumes and relics brought from the East, and were listened to with great interest by the people.

The services concluded with the benediction by Dr. A. C. Barnes, of Findlay district.

Wednesday Morning.

Conference met at 8:30 a. m. Rev. F. K. Gamble, of Lakeside, conducted the devotional services. The minutes of Tuesday afternoon session were read and approved.

The presiding elder announced the committee on program for the next district conference, viz: the pastors at Bowling Green, Monroe street and Third street, Toledo, and the secretary of the conference then took up the business of the renewal of the licenses of the exhorters. This being completed, the next item of business was taken up, viz, the granting of license to preach to three young men, F. K. Gamble, of Lakeside; A. C. Coates, of Monroe street, and W. H. Oswalt, of Gibsonburg.

The renewal of licenses of young ministers in the first and second year course of study was next taken up. At this time Mrs. Thacker, of Defiance, addressed the conference in the interest of the Woman's Home Missionary society. The address was most thorough and exhaustive.

Following Mrs. Thacker's address, Mrs. P. P. Pope, by request, spoke for a few minutes concerning the Woman's Foreign Missionary society. Her remarks were very warmly received.

Dr. A. C. Barnes, presiding elder of Findlay district, was then introduced to the conference and addressed it on the work of the recent general conference, of which he was a member. His address was brief but of great interest.

The following young men were recommended to the annual conference for admission to that body: W. A. Winters and R. B. Olive.

Following the above recommendations, the literary program was resumed, and Rev. W. H. Scotes spoke on "Church Finance." The speaker discussed methods and the relation of the pastor to the success of any or all methods was most clearly brought out.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

We, the members of the Toledo district, Central Ohio conference, having had an opportunity to observe the work and ability of our presiding elder, Parker P. Pope, and believing that he has done and is doing work of good and lasting effect, faithfully performing all the duties incident to his office, and believing that the material and spiritual interests of the district were never in better condition than at present; therefore,

Resolved, That we ask his continuance as presiding elder of said district for the coming conference year.

N. S. Brockney,
Secy. of the Com.

Resolved, That this district conference holds in its heart and memory the name of Rev. Ralph W. Munson and his wife and gladly welcome them home on their visit, and that we listened to their words last night and highly appreciate them for their work's sake and will endeavor to make their stay among us as pleasant as possible.

G. H. Priddy,
Chairman of Com.

Whereas, We as a conference have found our brief stay at Weston very pleasant and enjoyable,

Resolved, That we hereby express our greatest appreciation of the kindness and hospitality so heartily extended to us by the pastor and people.

N. S. Brackney,
Secy. of Com.

There being no further business, the minutes of Tuesday evening and Wednesday forenoon's sessions were read and approved, and on motion the conference adjourned sine die.

DAMAGED BY THE STORM.

Railroads in Montana Have Suffered Heavily.

Helena, Mont., June 16.—There is no change in the rail blockade in Montana.

Since Sunday there has been but one line, the Northern Pacific, open to the east, and there is no communication to the south or west.

Chief Engineer Darling, of the Northern Pacific, says the damage on that road between Elliston and Garrison is very serious, and he does not believe it possible to repair it in less than four days.

All the telegraph poles have been washed out for 10 miles, so that it is impossible to get any news save by way of Minneapolis.

RAILROAD TROUBLE.

San Antonio, Tex., June 16.—The receivership of the San Antonio & Arkansas Pass railroad has been practically terminated, and the road will be returned to the reorganization committee representing its bondholders.

These bonds are chiefly first mortgage and represent about $17,000,000. These claims are small and of long standing. Over $200,000 were paid out in two hours and there are many other claims which have now been adjudicated.

Why endure the agony of dyspepsia? Simmons Liver Regulator will cure you.

FIRE IN THE EAST.

Bung Factory in Flames and Other Damage Done.

Parkersburg, W. Va., June 16.—A great fire is burning at Elizabeth, Wert county, about 20 miles above here on the Kanawha river, in the heart of the lumber regions.

The Independence bung factory, controlled by New York capitalists, caught fire from the furnace and is in ashes, including the large band sawmill, the planing mill, the warerooms, and the dryhouse, with over 2,000,000 feet of lumber.

The loss is already $300,000 and the immense lumber yard of Burns Bros. & Hoffman is in danger as well as the town of Elizabeth.

PRESENTATION TO C. E. CASE

Of This City, at the Train Dispatchers' Convention.

The Organization Adopts a Conservative Form of Protection, Harmonizing All Factions.

C. E. Case, of this city, is in New Orleans attending the annual convention of the Train Dispatchers' Association of America. Mr. Case has been honored with the office of secretary and treasurer for a number of years and the fact that he is held in great esteem by the members was demonstrated yesterday morning, when he was called forward and presented with a handsome diamond pin.

It will be remembered that when the Train Dispatchers met in Toledo last year, there was a difference in opinion as to what policy the association should adopt. Many were in favor of revising the constitution and changing it into a protective organization, while an equal number were satisfied to remain non-federative, non-protective.

Many feared that if it was changed to a protective organization that it would kill the train dispatchers' chances of promotion. As it was the dispatchers were being made superintendents, etc., and were right in the line of promotion. Might not a change in policy result in a barrier between the dispatchers and the companies. Finally a committee of 15 was appointed to look into the matter and report at the meeting in 1892.

The matter has finally been settled. A telegram from Secretary Case to the Bee states that a conservative form of protection has been adopted that harmonizes all factions.

Three hundred members are present and the city is their's.

TO FOOL UNION LABOR.

Whitelaw Reid's Death Bed Confession.

A Union Foreman and Printers Go to Work on the New York Tribune.

New York, June 16.—Several of the committee of union printers who went to Minneapolis in regard to the matter of transforming the Tribune composing room from a "rat" to a union office, returned yesterday.

They say the matter in dispute between Mr. Reid and the printers have been satisfactorily adjusted, and a union foreman and union compositors will be at work on the Tribune to-night.

The action of the Tribune people, who have always been bitter enemies of union labor, in coming over for the sole purpose of catching votes, is discussed with great interest in union circles, and the opinion seems general that it will do Whitelaw no good. It came too late and did not come in the right spirit.

OTIS KNOCKED OUT.

A Fusion of Forces Spoiled His Pie.

Emporia, Kas., June 16.—Congressman John G. Otis, of the Fourth Kansas district, was defeated for renomination by E. V. Wharton, a physician of Yates Centre, Woodson county.

Mr. Wharton was a democrat before he joined the alliance. Otis is a straight-out farmers' alliance man and was sacrificed on the altar of fusion.

The democratic convention which was in session at the time of Wharton's nomination, had given it out that they would fuse on almost anybody except on Otis. Five ballots were taken before a nomination was made, Otis leading until the last, when Wharton secured the necessary majority. The democratic convention almost immediately indorsed Wharton's nomination and then both conventions adjourned.

RAIDING BLIND TIGERS.

A Kentucky Officer Makes a Raid.

Fines Amounting to Hundreds of Thousand Dollars Imposed by the Court.

Lancaster, Ky., June 16.—Lancaster is a local option town but she has her "blind tigers."

Several days ago H. A. Burdett, a detective, took the matter in hand and began to work up cases against the illicit whisky sellers of Battle Row, a negro settlement.

He reported yesterday and five negroes and one white man were arrested on 3,221 warrants. The white man is Frank Turner. He was fined $100 each in 1,577 cases, amounting to $157,700.

John Smith, a negro, confessed to 1,585 cases. Burdett believes that Turner's friends will try to do him injury, but he is prepared for trouble.

SUED FOR A BIG SUM.

Urbana, O., June 16.—A suit in foreclosure was filed in court here yesterday by the Central Trust company, of New York, against the United States Rolling Stock company, Wm. C. Lane, receiver, and all the parties holding claims upon the property. The suit is to recover $1,400,000 loaned the company three years ago.

It is evident that the London ladies are not enthralled by the house of commons style of oratory, as the gallery set apart for them is very little used. To encourage their attendance a passenger elevator—which John Bull persists in calling a "lift"—is to be put in.

ANOTHER BIG TRUST.

Hardware Men are Getting Together.

A Big Meeting in New York in Which Wholesalers and Retailers are Interested.

New York, June 16.—A meeting of American hardware manufacturers was held in this city yesterday. The session was secret and it is rumored among retail hardware men that a gigantic trust was about to be formed by the wholesalers and manufacturers.

Chairman Wm. Heyburn, of Louisville, denied the report, and said the hardware men had come together only for the purpose of talking over the transactions and business of the trade, but the denial should be taken with considerable allowance.

While Mrs. J. H. Feilbach, of Lafayette street, was out shopping yesterday she stopped to look at the snake charmer in Mockett's window, when a woman pressed up against and extracted her pocket-book from her pocket.

Mrs. Feilbach felt the twitch and turned just in time to see the woman making off.

Detectives Carew and O'Brien afterwards arrested a woman on suspicion and she was identified by Mrs. Feilbach. The prisoner gives her name as Gusta Pecker, of 634 Woodruff avenue.

DIPHTHERIA ON OAKWOOD.

Yesterday, little Mary, the youngest child and only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Baldwin, of 648 Oakwood avenue, died of diphtheria. The funeral will of course be private and every possible precaution taken to prevent the spread of the disease.

The case is made peculiarly sad, and the affliction doubly heavy, in the fact that the malignant type of the disease will prevent friends from rendering assistance to the bereaved in this trying hour. Little Mary was a beautiful child, and many friends mourn with the sorely afflicted family.

THE LOYAL LEGION.

The Old Soldiers Delightfully Entertained Last Evening.

At their pleasant home on Collingwood avenue, Col. and Mrs. John B. Bell entertained the members of the Loyal Legion last night.

This is an organization of old soldiers and their social gatherings are always enjoyable, but last night the excellent paper read by General Rayner, on his capture by the rebels and his imprisonment and escape from Libby prison, and thrilling war songs beautifully sung by Mrs. Bell and others, the dainty refreshments and generous hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Bell all combined to make the occasion an especially happy one.

Among the guests present were: H. W. Bigelow, C. C. Doolittle, Rev. and Mrs. H. M. Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Clark, J. K. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Whittlesey, Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. CHOPIN CONCERT.

An Interesting Program Rendered at the First Congregational.

A large and fashionable audience assembled at the First Congregational church last evening in response to invitations issued by the Chopin society, to attend a musicale, which was a most artistic and delightful affair.

The society was assisted by Mrs. W. H. Currier, a vocal quartet consisting of Mrs. Miller, Miss Buck, Miss Blass and Miss Pratt; Mr. C. L. Lewis, baritone; Mr. A. E. Trost, violin; and Mr. S. D. Cushing, accompanist.

The following members of the club participated: The Misses Ruedy, Camilla Fisk, Perla Bowman, Rose Clouse, Florence Curry, Mary Fisher, Amelia Bruksieker, Leona Schuck, Lily Clouse and Lily Trost.

Each number was highly enjoyable and appreciated, a number of the ladies receiving beautiful floral offerings.

Mrs. Currier, in her usual satisfactory manner, sang a magnificent selection. The feature of the evening, however, was the Saint Cecelia offertory played by Miss Rose Clouse. Too much cannot be said in favor of this artist.

The vocal quartet sang two excellent selections. Mr. Lewis is a favorite with Toledo audiences and sang two selections. Mr. Trost added much to the pleasurable affair by his violin solo. The Chopin society is to be congratulated upon the successful occasion.

TROUBLE IN CHICAGO.

Alabama Negroes Brought to That City

As Opposition to the Longshoremen.

Crusade Against the Fancy Signs on the Steamboats—General and Local Marine.

Chicago, June 16.—(Special)—There is war again among the longshoremen. There is no delay to the steamboat lines, but it is war to the knife, or axe, between two factions of the men employed. Six hundred Alabama negroes have just been brought to Chicago, and are being employed on steamers, loading and unloading at the freight houses on the north side of the river east of Rush street bridge, as well as at the various wharfs up the creek. There are rows nightly along River and Water streets when newly imported men quit work and some very hard fighting, all sorts of weapons being used from a box-hook to a razor. Last night there was the usual trouble but no blood shed.

There was a pitched battle on Tuesday night which continued from Bush street bridge along River and Water streets to State street. One man was struck on the neck and shoulders with a cooper's hatchet and terribly injured, his comrades saying yesterday that he is not expected to live.

His name is Browning, and he is one of the men who recently arrived here. There are extra policemen on th ewharves, but the assaults upon these new negroes are made after they have quit work and when they have left the wharves on their way home. The assaulting parties are also negroes generally, but there are white men among them. The Chicago longshoremen utterly resent the bringing in of the outsiders, and say openly that they "will send those Alabama niggers to find McRae."

One of the steamers reported for having her name on an elaborate signboard instead of on the hull is the Arundel, of Graham & Morton's line. The captain of the Arundel makes the defense that in the Detroit district, where she came from, this handsome an ornamental sign was allowed by the customs authorities, and Graham & Morton think that spite work had something to do with the reporting of this case.

Obey the Law.

Chicago, June 16.—An unpleasant sensation was created yesterday among the owners of steam and sail vessels in Chicago. A number of them were notified that they have not complied with the law providing that the names of the craft shall be painted on each bow—painted on the solid hull of the vessel. Numerous other notices will be issued to-day and the work will continue indefinitely.

International Association of Machinists No. 105, met at Turley's hall last night with an unusually good attendance. The regular routine business was transacted and five applications for membership received. Arrangements for the grand excursion to Put-in-Bay the latter part of July were furthered. The association is in a very prosperous condition.

Residents of Oakwood avenue and vicinity are greatly alarmed over the diphtheria epidemic in their midst. Houses thoroughly fumigated with sulphur every day, or twice a day, is one of the best precautionary methods against the spread of the disease. This treatment together with careful bathing and dieting will check the epidemic—if there is one.

The Young People's Missionary Circle of the Eleventh Street Church of Christ met last evening with Miss Jessie Allen, 419 Nebraska avenue. Papers were read on the New South and Our Foreign Population. At the close of the business and literary program, refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed. At a special meeting of the American Numismatic and Archaeological society in New York recently, Mr. Francis W. Doughty, coin collector and numismatic writer, announced a series of surprising archaeological discoveries made by him in the "drift" in various parts of Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, but principally on Long island. Accompanying the address was an exhibition of a number of the objects in question, which were taken at depths varying from a few feet below the surface of the ground to 200 feet, the latter being from various railroad and other cuttings where the drift had been exposed. Attention was called to the existence upon the earliest coins of Rome of the same markings which occur upon these pieces of money and clay books and tablets. The discovery will perhaps attract widespread attention from scientists.

Congressman Kilgore is said to have surprised some of the staid and easy-going equestrians of Washington by dashing along the country roads at a reckless speed on horseback and leaning over from his saddle to pick up pebbles from the ground as he flew by. Though 56 years old and white headed, Col. Kilgore rides with all the vim and vigor of a cowboy or a centaur, as they say in classic Texas.

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

For Secretary of State,
W. A. TAYLOR, of Franklin.
For Judge of Supreme Court (long term),
JOHN J. BRIGGS, of Monroe.
For Judge of Supreme court (short term),
THOMAS BEER, of Crawford.
For Clerk of Supreme Court,
WILLIAM H. WOLFE, of Fairfield.
For Member State Board of Public Works
J. N. MYERS, of Hamilton.

The State Convention.

The democratic state convention which assembled in Columbus on Wednesday nominated an excellent ticket, one that will command the support of the party and draw largely from the opposition. Col. W. A. Taylor, who heads the ticket as candidate for secretary of state, is popular, and probably has a more extensive personal acquaintance than any other man in Ohio. Although Ohio is called a republican state, it is not among the impossibilities that it will give a democratic majority in November. Republicans will incline to smile at this assertion, but democrats will put Ohio in the doubtful column in their calculations and do their level best to win the state over to the Lord's side.

The platform is a comprehensive statement of democratic principles, the reform of the tariff laws being the chief issue of the present campaign. In state matters the arraignment of the present republican state legislature appeals to the record for the indisputable proof that it is the most profligate, reckless and careless general assembly in the history of the state. The platform favors the non-partisan control of the benevolent and charitable institutions of the state and the party is pledged to this reform.

The delegates to the national democratic convention are Senator Brice, Gov. Campbell, Larry Neal, and Robert Blee. These men are representative democrats and will do in Chicago what they believe to be best for the party and the country. It is a matter of regret that our distinguished townsman, Mr. Hurd, is not one of the "big four," but it is also a matter of congratulation that under the circumstances, with the field against him, he made such a splendid race, lacking only twenty-five votes for nomination on the first ballot As a veteran tariff reformer he was a logical candidate of a reform convention, but the contest was good-natured, and though we lost, good men were selected and all democrats will be in line to work for the man who shall be nominated next week.

Ohio democrats will make a gallant fight this year. Put that down as a fact right now.

Unconscious Burlesque

According to the Inter-Ocean, "Mr. McKinley's tones were untainted by the slightest tremor of uncertainty," when he told the Chicago clubs at the Blaine obsequies in that city, not to feel so badly about it, "the Minneapolis convention had made no mistake." Republicans may well rejoice over anything that is untainted, if it be no more than a tone. All through the I.-O.'s account are scattered "Napoleon, vive l'emperor, idol of his troops, the consummate flower of republicanism," and —well, things like these: "The air was full of countless currents from the thousands of fans that fluttered like so many great wings. * * * In tones that trembled with power he arraigned the arrancy of democracy (whatever "the arrancy" may be. The dictionary doesn't say). "Like a statue stood its author (McKinley, author of the applause), beheld by all eyes, giving no sign of the emotion that must have affected a man, the central figures of such a picture."

It wasn't nice of the Gusher to say McKinley was "the author" of the applause that greeted him "like a thunder peal that shakes the earth." He has been accused of being the author of several breaks, but never, even by his enemies, of being the author of his own applause, and through it all "standing like a statue, giving no sign."

"Great Hevings;" go to, you society Gusher and hang up your hat and gloves. The political Gusher has the floor. He gushes like foaming fluid out of a wide-necked bottle. He gushes like a spring freshet or a mildam broke loose. No pent-up Utica contracts his powers, the whole broad, boundless dictionary is ours, and more too, after he gets through with us. Seriously, he should be muzzled during this extreme weather.

Protection for Ohio Farms.

The Baltimore Sun takes Ohio statistics and shows conclusively what protection has done for Ohio farms:

For purposes of taxation the Ohio state board of equalization every ten years assesses the lands and, separately the buildings of the state. The report for 1890 has been published, and the figures make a curious showing when put side by side with those of 1880. The value of farm lands in 1880 was $684,000,000 in 1890 $569,000,000—decrease in ten years $115,000,000. Ohio is a manufacturing state, and manufactures have increased greatly in number and importance there in the past decade. Protectionist logic would require that the "home market" thus brought to the farmer's door should enhance the value of his land by increasing the demand for his products, but the fact is that while the protected manufactures have increased the farm values have gone down $115,000,000. Protection it seems, has no compensation for the higher prices it puts on the manufactured articles farmers buy.

City values have increased $158,000,000 within the same decade. It is the farmer who gets left every time and who will continue to get left so long as he swallows the "home market" theory and votes to pay tribute to the monopolists who control it.

Just why a political platform, though it is made out of worm-eaten chestnut timber, should declare against the union of church and state is not very apparent. But even this is not so absurd as a plank denouncing trusts and demanding legislation on the subject. It was a republican senator who advised "that the tariff be taken off refined sugars to cripple the trust that was manipulating the market and forcing up prices." That's the kind of "legislation" the people who comprehend the plain law of cause and effect demand, on the trust question.

The National Prohibition convention will meet in Music Hall, Cincinnati, Wednesday, June 29. There will be 1,091 delegates, with alternates. An effort to change the name and partially the character of the party, in hopes to affiliate with other reform bodies, will give to the convention unusual general interest. If the platform of principles should be construed possibly to coalesce with the one to be made at Omaha, July 4, the movement would have considerable significance. For six months the Prohibitionists have had their workers busy securing pledges of support for the Cincinnati nominees. They proclaim themselves confident of getting a million names of voters. This is large-sized bait thrown out, perhaps, to call the serious attention of the people's party leaders. The "temperance party," waited upon to fluid refreshments by 64 uniformed men, night and day in Minneapolis, is not in it.

It is said that Vice-President Morton, who was dropped with a dull thud, out of republican calculation, has retired, disgusted, to the shades of the Shoreham. He was treated very shabbily in not being given a chance to decline, which, it is said, he was ready to do. He wanted to perform the self-sacrifice act for the good of the party, and was not permitted the opportunity. There was only one other aspiring man of the party so badly snubbed, and that was Blair, the ex-Minister to China; Blair, of New Hampshire.

When General John C. New called upon Mr. Harrison, Monday, the president fairly fell on his neck and wept with emotion. Mr. New has already sailed for London. He goes back with the feeling that he has saved his party and, incidentally, his own official head, by leaving his post where he is supposed to be attending to the interests of the whole people from whom he draws his salary, and coming home to hustle like a ward politician for his chief and himself.

The country is still in prosperous condition, with good prospects for remaining so, even with the damage the crops have sustained by the heavy spring rains.—Organ.

That's the way they do; when good crops make better times, they credit it to the McKinley bill. When bad crops bring hard times, the old "bill" slips out and the discredit goes to heavy rains. It's ridiculous, but it's republican.

Boston ratified. The chief speaker was the collector of the port. He said, "It's little use now to discuss the past contests." To be sure, let discussion cease. Their campaign of education is over before it is begun. The unqualified statements of the high priests of protection should be sufficient. What they want now is money and votes.

Harrison hustled for himself and his subsidized lieutenants hustled for him and he got there. Next Monday a committee will wait upon Mr. Harrison to notify him of his nomination. Of course Mr. Harrison will thank them for "the honor bestowed." Ceremonial red tape has some funny kinks in it.

New Mexico and Arizona have more population than three of the states admitted by the last congress have to-day. Still, according to the republicans, they "lack qualifications for statehood," which means they do not give indications of republican majorities.

"Don't expect us to transfer our enthusiasm from the name on our hearts to the name on the ticket at once—give us time." This was what Judge Thurston said at the Harrison ratification meeting in Chicago. And the applause that "shook the earth like a peal of thunder" was put down for the ticket.

The Philadelphia Times calculates that, within three years, 5,000 people have lost their lives in western Pennsylvania, because of weak dams constructed in a slovenly manner. And the sure results of this recklessness are termed "mysterious dispensations of Providence!"

In jotting down the marginal notes for reference, remember that Foraker came out ahead of Sherman, McKinley and the whole Ohio crowd of his cordial and courteous haters, at Minneapolis.

The size of Toledo's enthusiasm over the Minneapolis convention is shown by the indefinite postponement of an attempt to ratify.

The New York Recorder says: "There is nobody outside the breastworks this year." When was Warner Miller brought in?

Tom Reed got a great deal of attention (at Minneapolis) and very little satisfaction.

The Chicago Tribune says, Harrison cannot be elected. It will probably contradict this to-morrow and take its usual campaign attitude on the tariff question.

Col. Shepard's grand eloquence didn't greatly impress the typographical union, in convention in Philadelphia. When he invited them to attend the opening of his newspaper building they replied: "Thank you, yes, when you assure us you will employ only union printers and stereotypers."

Two items that by mistake got into a single paragraph in a Boston newspaper, were: "The bronze doors which have just been completed for Willie Vanderbilt's new house at Newport weigh fourteen tons and cost $50,000." and "Mrs. Helen Warden, a widow, who has been trying to support herself and three children, making men's shirts at sixpence a piece, was found dead in her attic this morning, of actual starvation.

A New Yorker made a wager, weeks before the Minneapolis convention, that Whitelaw Reid would be named on the ticket. Asked on the strength of what indication he did the winning deed, he said: "I knew that Reid wanted it and that his father-in-law is worth fifteen million dollars." Pretty good logical premises.

T. P. BROWN

To Fill the Gas Board Vacancy.

Appointment Announced by Mayor Emmick—Also the Fire Board Appointment.

Mayor Emmick to-day makes public two appointments which are to be submitted to the council for approval.

There has been much speculation as to who would be appointed to fill the vacancy in the gas board caused by the death of Dr. W. W. Jones, and there were several candidates for the place, both republican and democratic.

The mayor has now settled the matter by appointing T. P. Brown to the place, and it is understood that Mr. Brown will accept. As previously stated in the Bee, he has appointed Mr. E. A. Eversman to succeed himself on the fire board. A joint session of the council to consider these appointments will be called for Monday evening.

Margaret Haughery, a poor washerwoman of New Orleans, is honored by a statute erected by the ladies of the city, to the "orphans' friend," as she was called. By her industry and thrift she accumulated a fortune, the income of which while she lived, and the principal after her death, were devoted to the various orphan asylums of New Orleans.

MAY BE INVESTIGATED.

Law and Order People After Mayor Emmick

Who is Accused of Gross Violation of Duty.

Accused of Authorizing Sunday Base Ball—Chief Raitz Has Got a Letter and So Have Some Others.

"They're after me, they're after me." Mayor Emmick did not repeat the line in so many words, but it was what he meant.

"Yes, I know they're after me. Well, let them go ahead."

It looked no larger than a man's hands when the cloud appeared on the horizon, last Monday evening, but it now covers the whole firmament and it is about to burst.

It was a quiet little meeting of prominent members of seven churches that was held last evening in the parlors of the Central Congregational church. The object was to take action on the Sunday base ball situation.

Mr. Charles O. Brigham presided. The attendance, owing to the sultry weather and the short notice, was small. Somewhat of a sensation was sprung when it was announced that a letter was in existence showing that Mayor Emmick in spite of his protestations, had actually sanctioned Sunday base ball.

It was claimed that the letter, signed by three members of the police board, was in possession of Chief of Police Raitz. A Copy of the letter was secured and will be presented at an adjourned meeting to be held next Monday evening.

A committee of three, Rev. Anderson, W. H. Currier and J. S. Merrill, was appointed to further investigate. The committee was instructed to secure promise of financial assistance in the event of proceedings being instituted against the city officials, chief among the alleged offenders being Mayor Emmick. The committee reports an enthusiastic response to its appeal.

Mr. Currier Talks.

Mr. W. H. Currier was seen at his office on Summit street by a Bee this morning.

"Yes, we held a meeting and decided to take some action on this Sunday base ball playing," he said in reply to a query.

"What do you propose doing?"

"That will depend altogether on the report of our committee, and the report, I may say, will be favorable as far as I know."

"Are you seeking financial aid?"

"Yes, Rev. Anderson and myself were around some yesterday and got flattering encouragement and proffers of assistance in case we proceed with the proposed prosecutions."

"Do you propose prosecuting the base ball people or the city officials?"

"It is useless to further prosecute the base ball players. That is evident. But I think the city officials who have violated their duty should be looked after promptly."

"What is the nature of the mayor's letter?"

"It is in substance, as I understand it, that the base ball clubs be allowed to play eight innings. No, I don't know just what will be done at next Monday night's meeting. The officer who knows his duty and fails to perform it should be prosecuted or impeached. That's the way I look at it."

What Mayor Emmick Says.

Mayor Emmick was found at his office this morning. "Yes, they're after me," he said, laughingly. "Well, let them go ahead. I want them to get after me. My majority next spring will be 4,000 instead of 2,000 as it was a year ago.

"Did you write a letter to Chief Raitz authorizing him to allow eight innings of base ball at the last Sunday game?"

"I did not. I signed a letter authorizing the chief to arrest them if they attempted to play ball."

"Will you allow me to see that letter?"

"No. Chief Raitz has got it, but I have told you the substance of it."

"Will you authorize Chief Raitz to let me have the letter?"

"No, I cannot. I told him to keep the letter until the proper time came when it will be made public."

"It is claimed that a copy of such a letter as I spoke of is in existence."

"Well, then it is a forgery. I wrote or signed no such letter and I defy anyone to produce any such."

"Money is being raised, it is said to prosecute the case. Have you heard of it?"

"Yes a little. Let them go ahead; but they had better have enough money to stand another suit after this one is over. They mustn't take me for a chump. I don't ask anything better than an investigation. It will, as I said, increase my majority next spring to 4,000."

While the mayor evidently is not scared a little bit.

Chief Raitz Says a Word.

A Bee interviewed Chief of Police Raitz at the police station, relative to the instructions he received from members of the police board, as to the time when the arrest should be made and he said. "Manager Gunnels came to me and wanted to know if the clubs would be arrested if they played ball on Sunday. "I told him that they would, most certainly.

"He asked me what time in the game I intended to make the arrest and I told him that they couldn't play an inning or a half inning, but the first ball that was passed both clubs and managers would be arrested.

"He then wanted to know, that, if I received instructions in writing from the police board would they be allowed to play enough of the game to warrant their retaining the gate receipts.

"I replied that the police department was under the management of the police commissioners, and I had no authority to do other than their bidding.

"It was not long until Mr. Gunnells returned accompanied by Mayor Emmick and Commissioner Potter. They then wrote out instructions addressed to me, something to this effect: "'If they play ball arrest and bring to the station same as last Sunday.'

"Both Mr. Emmick and Potter signed the paper and turned it over to me. I said that I could not act under those instructions over the signatures of only two of the commissioners; that it did not express the sentiment of the board.

"Gunnells went away again and in a short time returned in company with Mr. Waring, who signed the instructions.

"On the Sunday before the club learned of the intended arrest and began the game three-quarters of an hour sooner, so that I was late on the ground and eight innings had been played before the arrest was made. I obeyed instructions and made the arrest at the eighth inning."

TERRIBLE STORM.

Death and Disaster Reported on All Sides.

Minneapolis, June 16.—A cyclone is reported at Sherburn, Minn., on the I. & M. division of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad. It is said to have blown a train off the track and killed over one hundred people.

THE BROKEN BRIDGE.

Another Section Follows the First.

Digging in the Ruins for the Dead.

Nearly All the Dead Have Been Claimed by Friends and Relatives.

Cincinnati, June 16.—Another section of the Licking river bridge fell at 9 o'clock this morning. Five men were working under it at the time, but they escaped without injury. Two more bodies were taken out of the wreck this forenoon but have not yet been identified.

With the approach of daylight people began to gather on the banks of the Licking river, where the ill-fated bridge went down with its scores of human lives Wednesday, and in a few hours thousands of men, women and children were watching the work of rescuing the dead in the wreck.

A half hundred brave men had volunteered their services, and under the direction of the bridge company commenced an earnest search for the dead.

Owing to the vast amount of iron on the structure when it fell, the work was difficult and necessarily slow. An hour after it was begun the two bodies were found pinned down by heavy timbers. They were taken out but could not at the time be identified.

About 9 o'clock while the work was being prosecuted a terrible crash was heard.

Another section of the bridge, loosened and tottering on the Newport side, fell carrying with it 2,000 pounds of ropes and pulleys. Five men were at work just under it at the time it gave way, but a warning cry saved their lives.

Nearly all of the identified dead have been claimed by relatives. There is yet one body unidentified at Meaninger's undertaking establishment. Wm. Baird, the surviving brother of the contractors, has received messages of sympathy from several large bridge companies.

KROMER'S CASE

Now on in United States Court.

The Case Will be Hotly Contested—Leitner, Gross and Bailey Will Go to the Penitentiary.

The United States district court is disposing of the criminal cases with rapidity, and the docket will probably be cleared this week, unless the case of Joseph Kromer, of Tiffin, who is charged with robbing the mails, shall delay matters.

Kromer is being tried to-day. Judge Seney is the counsel for the defense and the case will be hotly contested.

The following cases have been nollied: United States vs. Anson McClure, case compromised and dismissed.
United States vs. Anson McClure, case case nollied.
United States vs. F. C. Gorman, case nollied.

The following persons have received their sentences:

Evoy E. Leitner, one year of hard labor in Ohio penitentiary, and costs of suit.

Fred Gross, one year of hard labor in the Ohio penitentiary and costs.

A. B. Bailey, two years' hard labor in the Ohio penitentiary and costs.

Frank Noonan, three months in Cleveland workhouse and $25 fine and costs.

In the case of the United States vs. John M. Northrop, defendant pleaded guilty and was fined $5 and costs.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Should Harrison be re-elected, what's the matter with his working the machine for Chauncey Depew in '96?—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Foraker says McKinley had given his consent to his candidacy. Foraker is evidently trying to shelve McKinley as a presidential possibility in 1896.—Omaha Bee.

One of the saddest sights in the history of American politics is Levi P. Morton turning for consolation in this dark hour to the Shoreham buffet.—Chicago Mail.

There has not been so little gunpowder burned or hurrah made over any presidential nomination since the war as over that made at Minneapolis.—N. Y. World.

How we shall miss the enthusiasm that Blaine's name would have inspired had the Maine statesman been the republican nominee for the presidency!—N. Y. Telegram.

The talk about the nomination of Whitelaw Reid being a tribute to the workinfi journalists of the country, is the veriest "rot." It is a tribute to the Reid-Mills "barrel"—only that and nothing more.—Atlanta Journal.

It is reported that the president will take immediate steps to conciliate Platt. He has no doubt similar designs on Quay and Clarkson. It is very likely that he will be successful. But there is one man he cannot conciliate. His temporary address is Bar Harbor.—Rochester Herald.

Many republicans who have returned from Minneapolis are not in the gay spirits that marked their departure. Vociferous enthusiasm is no longer heard, and though they are talking a good deal through their mouths, their hearts are very low down. No presidential nomination has fallen upon the American people so flatly as this for scores of years There has been a direful absence of gunpowder in saluting the event as if it belonged to something glorious.—N. Y. News.

Benjamin Harrison emerges from the Minneapolis convention far weaker with the country than he entered it. The vote which nominated him shows conclusively that he was not the choice of the masses of the party, more especially in the republican states. The lack of enthusiasm on the part of these masses, who have seen their idol thrust aside by the office holders and the representatives of the corporations and trusts will, in itself, prove a great source of weakness to Mr. Harrison's cause.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

Gov. McKinley's mistake in the convention was that he allowed himself to be run as a candidate against both Harrison and Blaine. He injured Blaine by making his vote only about half what it might have been with McKinley out of the field, and thus brought to Blaine gratuitous mortification. He injured Harrison by offering to the opponents of Harrison an alternative candidate in case Blaine was not sufficient to defeat him. It was anything but a pleasant act toward either party, and was very much like a treacherous one toward Harrison. It is another instance of the unfortunate errors amiable gentlemen are brought to commit when the presidential bee gets into their bonnets.—Boston Herald.

The largest cheeses ever manufactured in the world were those made during the early part of 1876 and sent to the centennial exhibition. One was 10 feet and the other 12 feet high; the smaller one weighed 12 1-2 and the larger one over 14 tons. Each was bound with iron hoops nearly an inch in thickness.

CAN HAVE NO GAS.

The Trustees Decide an Important Matter.

Rolling Mills Must Burn Something Else.

Important Meeting Held by the Natural Gas Board—The Discussion in Detail.

A special meeting of the board of gas trustees was called this morning relative to supplying gas to the rolling mill.

It appears that the mills have been using gas without the knowledge of the department.

The rolling mill people made a proposition to the effect that if gas was supplied until July 1 they would not ask a further extension of the existing contract.

Mr. Voit was opposed to granting the request on the grounds that there was not a sufficient supply. He moved that the application be rejected.

President Greene seconded the motion.

Mr. Backus made the point that under the contract the rolling mill, he believed, was entitled to gas.

In reply to a question, Manager Heston reported that he had renewed contracts with two institutions—the Chandelier company and Roth & Friedman.

Mr. Backus insisted that the contracts should be renewed in the order of priority.

Mr. Walbridge said he calculated the mill would use 1,000,000 feet a day. They only wanted it for about 12 days.

Mr. Backus thought the city should have about 20,000,000 feet this warm weather.

President Greene said he was opposed to turning on the gas for the reason that the rolling mill company had violated its contract.

Mr. Walbridge said the money for the gas had been paid in advance. He denied that the contract had been violated. The gas was never closed off.

Mr. Romeis favored the proposition if there was a sufficient supply of gas.

Mr. Greene said it was evident the supply was not sufficient.

Manager Heston stated that an expert had estimated the consumption of gas by the rolling mills at 3,600,000 feet a day.

President Greene was opposed to sacrificing the plant for the sake of the rolling mill.

The motion to reject the proposition was carried by a vote of 3 to 1, Mr. Backus voting no.

Mr. Romeis moved to reconsider so that the matter could be further investigated. The vote stood 2 and 2 and the motion was lost.

Mr. Voit offered a resolution authorizing the manager to make out a statement of the amount of gas recently consumed by the rolling mill and the same be referred to the city solicitor for settlement.

Mr. Walbridge said they were willing to pay the bill and the motion was withdrawn.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

RESERVED SEATS

For Graduation Day—A Timely Word from a Parent.

I have felt for several years that an injustice was being done the patrons of our public schools at graduating time, but have never spoken of it, because I was not personally interested. This year I have a child who expects to graduate and I feel like raising my voice, and feel that I have a right to do so.

My woe is this: I believe it has been the custom to issue tickets and present to graduates for their friends, which, of course, is necessary and right; but the question arises, who are entitled to those tickets? First of all, I ask those having the matter in charge, if you were a "middler," looking forward as you would, to the time, only one year hence, when you would be one of the graduates, wouldn't you feel that you should at least be granted the privilege of witnessing one graduating exercise? and thereby getting hints and ideas of what would be expected of you the coming year? I think each "middler" should have one ticket. It might be necessary to give them a gallery ticket, but I feel sure any one of them would be grateful for that. If not, they do not deserve any. My next plea is for the graduates and their friends. I understand that it has been the custom to give each graduate 10 tickets, 4 parquette, 4 balcony and 2 gallery. When a girl or boy has worked and struggled through the course of study in the high school (many of them working for honors and gaining them; many studying to make teaching a life work) be that as it may, that have done well and are proud of their work and their friends are proud of them. It seems to me these friends should be the guests of the occasion, and given the preference over many other persons. Take this matter home; were you a brother or sister of one of the graduates, would you feel it right to be put in the balcony, while people who attend the exercises every year sit in the parquette? This is our only time. We have expended much money and hard work, and many parents have denied themselves the comforts of life to meet the necessary expense attending the graduation of their child. More families number six than less, and in justice to these is it anything more than fair to ask that each graduate receive six tickets in the parquette, four in the balcony, and none higher up? I know a child who has six in her own family, a dear grandfather and grandmother and uncle and aunt, who love her and would be so glad to see the child graduate; but she cannot invite them, as they cannot be admitted should they come.

This is one of the greatest events of a child's life. You would think very strange for a child's near freinds to be put in the balcony, were she to be married. This class numbers, I understand, 79. Should each child receive six parquette tickets it would take less than 500, leaving over 100 to be divided among the board, press, teachers, etc. I am sure each of the board or press would be satisfied with two tickets each in parquette and the balance in the balcony, and see justice in so doing. Hoping this will influence a reform in this direction, I am, respectfully yours,

A PARENT.

Toledo, June 13.

Knows When He Has Enough.

To the Editor: I wish to ask a little space in the Bee regarding a quotation I saw in the Toledo Blade last night: it asserts that "all republicans are for Harrison." I beg to say this is a gross misrepresentation in my case. I am a Blaine republican. However, I am going to vote the democratic ticket this year, and vote it straight. I would do this for my own benefit. The proceedings which marked the Minneapolis convention, the billion dollar congress, the force bill and the un-American McKinley bill are sufficient to make any intelligent republican realize that he must protect his family and his home. We all see the effects of the McKinley bill in the person of Andrew Carnegie, of Pittsburg. During Mr. Cleveland's administration I was working for $2.50 per day, 10 to 12 hours. To-day I am working 8 hours and get $1.48 per day. Four years more of republican rule and we will be classed with the Chinaman. I am not the only republican; there are two more next door. I am a laboring man and am pursuing a course for my benefit.

THE GRAND LODGE

Of the Knights of Honor Adjourned

To Meet Next Year at Columbus—Hard Work Faithfully Done—A Successful Meeting.

The Knights of Honor have adjourned, and most of the delegates have left the city. They are business men and were here to transact the business of the order. They receive $8 per day for their work, and most conscientiously were their duties fulfilled.

Though their sessions were secret they were very kind to the press, giving out every scrap of news of interest to the public, and courtesies extended the Bee are appreciated.

The business of the morning session was the installation of the newly-elected officers, which was done by Col. Nelson, of St. Louis, the supreme reporter and deputy supreme dictator, assisted by Supreme Representative T. H. Johnson of Cleveland.

Resolutions that had been referred to different committees were reported and considered at the last session, and action taken thereon.

The local lodge, No. 73, K. of H., elected the following officers Tuesday evening: Past dictator, Geo. M. Baker; dictator, Reynold Voit; vice dictator, H. C. Marsh; assistant dictator, William Fellows; guide, Joseph Lamb; chaplain, E. W. Rakestraw; reporter, S. F. Brigham; financial reporter, R. B. Pratt; treasurer, Geo. Schuck; guardian, Henry Spross; sentinel, D. W. Barry.

A few of the delegates took a ride on the Pastime last evening, and others took excursions on the Belt line. They expressed themselves as being well pleased with Toledo and especially with the success of the convention. The knights remaining last night, left for their homes this morning.

DOST THOU THINK OF ME OFTEN?

"Dost thou think of me often, my friend, my love,
More dear than the earth, and the stars above?
Morning and evening, by night and by day,
Weeping or laughing, at work or at play—
Dost thou think of me often, as I of thee?
Oh! hasten, my love, and answer me!"

"Do I think of thee often, by night and day,
Weeping or laughing, at work or at play?
—Nay, that in good truth, I could not say!
But come, do not frown,
Rather close bend down
Thy head right here.
And let me whisper into thy ear—
Morning and evening, by night and by day,
Weeping or laughing, at work or at play,
Awake or asleep—
The thought of thee lies as close and deep
As the breath of my life, the throb of my heart,
Of my innermost being grown a part—
I do not think of thee oft, for see
Thou art never one instant divided from me—
Ah, my beloved, dost understand?
And now wilt thou smile and give me thy hand?"

MAUD MULLER UP TO DATE.

"There is a poem that any man, let alone Whittier, might see. Is she not beautiful, Alf?" and the young man reined in his horse and gazed at the beautiful picture before him.

A background of dark green trees, a cloudless sky, broad fields of grass, and in the foreground a maiden, rake in hand, was working diligently.

A broad-brimmed hat, tied coquettishly with blue ribbon, a pair of dark sparkling eyes, rippling dark hair, that unconfined lay softly on the snowy neck, a sweet dainty mouth, a form of exquisite symmetry—a lovely girl, just verging into womanhood, was the picture he beheld. No wonder he paused.

"Who is she?" queried the thick-headed, iron-hearted Alf, who could have seen twenty like pictures and not been affected in the least.

"Maud Muller."

"Nonsense; come, let's go back; the hot sun affects you."

Alf laughed a real, hearty "haw, haw!" that reached the ears of Maud Muller and caused her to drop her rake and look in surprise.

Fred beckoned. She came.

"Will you pardon me if I beg a cup of water? I see you are provided with drinking cups, and the brook flows at your feet. My horse is restive and I fear to dismount."

She lifted her eyes timidly and glanced at the stranger. He was very handsome, just the one to turn the head of a simple country maiden.

"I say, Fred," said Alf, as they cantered down the road, "I suppose you consider yourself the 'Judge' in this cast. Well, the Judge came out all right, and so will you. That story of yours about your restive horse struck me dumb. If this animal has any symptoms of restiveness it's because he's getting into his second childhood."

* * * * * * *

Alice Lee sat in her chamber that evening and dreamed of the handsome stranger's dark eyes. In fancy she stood in the hay field and listened to his rich tones.

She was beautiful, and as simple and artless as any country maiden that had grown up under the eyes of one like old Farmer Lee, and had never seen beyond the oak woods and knew nothing of the world outside of the village.

Somehow they met—Fred Thornton and Alice Lee—and a warm friendship sprung up that deepened into love, and people wondered. Alfred Willis laughed, as he did at everything, and the loving pair did as lovers ever do.

At length Fred grew weary of the dull country village, and one evening they stood at the garden gate, having their last chat.

These were his last words to her:

"Good-bye, darling, we shall meet soon. I shall soon come to claim you, then we will never, never part. I shall not forget you, darling, and may heaven deal with me as I deal with you."

Letters came, long loving ones, that brought a world of sunshine and happiness to Alice. But it could not last forever. There came a time when her eyes wore an anxious restless look.

The letters were shorter and came less frequently, until they ceased altogether. Alice wondered and waited, but received no tidings of the absent one. She kept on in her quiet life, but the sunlight had departed.

* * * * * * *

Fred Thornton did not forget Alice Lee. A vision of a pair of dark eyes often came before him, and his mind wandered back to the hayfield and "Maud Muller," and he dreamed on until Alf came and dragged him away to some festive scene, where, amid the gay throng and enchanting music Alice Lee passed from his mind.

"Alf, I am tired of this," said he one night as they sat smoking in his elegant rooms.

"Let us travel."

"Where? Down to see 'Maud Muller?'"

"Stuff! To Paris, nothing short. Don't mention 'Maud Muller'; she was crossed out long ago. That was a perfect piece of nonsense. About this Paris trip; will you go?"

"Certainly."

And they went.

* * * * * * *

Five years later Frederic Thornton and Alfred Willis stood once more upon their native soil.

Mrs. Murray, Alfred's pretty sister, whose hospitality they were enjoying for a short time, came in one evening, saying:

"Here are cards for Mrs. Ritchie's soiree to-morrow evening. Of course you will go. You will see Mrs. Varasour there."

"Who is she?"

"Oh, a married lady, not a widow; a perfect queen, at whose feet everybody is ready to fall and worship."

"And her husband is a cipher, I dare say."

"Not at all. He is immensely wealthy, a fine man, a devoted husband, and very proud of his young wife."

The next evening they all went to Mrs. Ritchie's soiree.

Thornton and Willis met many old friends, and in the excitement Mrs. Varasour was forgotten until late in the evening, when Mrs. Murray fluttered toward them in her usual bustling way, saying:

"Now, listen Alf, and hear the most exquisite music mortal ever produced. Mrs. Varasour is going to play."

Down the long room floated a strain of fairy-like music, clear and soft at first, like the whisper of a zephyr; then it grew rich and louder, until the instrument began to tremble beneath the touch of the musician; then it grew soft again and sank into a murmur and ceased.

"Alfred, look; Mrs. Varasour is coming this way."

She came, leaning on the arm of her husband. She came very near them in passing, and the glistening gems upon her white fingers flashed in Thornton's face.

"Who is she?"

"Maud Muller."

"By Jove! So it is, Nellie, how did it happen—this marriage, I mean?"

"Oh, they met somewhere, and he fell in love with her youth and beauty; she with his money and name, I suppose."

A smile crossed the face of Alfred Willis.

"It's too bad, I say."

"For of all sad words of tongue or pen
The saddest are these—it might have been."

SHERMAN'S FIRST CANVASS.

He Stumped His District at Every Cross Roads, but Was Not Elected.

I heard a curious story of John Sherman's first election to congress to-day, says a Washington letter to Indianapolis News. It was told me by the Hon. Peter Grosscup, who is now one of the brightest young lawyers in Chicago, but who a few years ago was the republican nominee for congress in Sherman's Ohio district. Grosscup at this time lived in Ashland, Ohio, a town of 3,000 people, just fifteen miles from Mansfield where Sherman lives, and he was once the republican nominee for attorney-general of the state. Said he:

"When I was nominated for congress, I was in doubt about accepting the nomination, and I went up to see Senator Sherman, and I told him there was no chance of me being elected. He advised me strongly to run, and said: 'You are a young man, and you can't tell what will happen. I was nominated just a year as have been, and I had no more chance of being elected than you have. I hadn't much money, but I had an old white horse and a rattle-trap of a buggy, and I took old Whitey and drove around all over my district. Every village I came to where I could find two or three men standing together I would get out and jump upon a chair or a store-box and make a speech to them, and I did this at every cross-roads in my district. Well, when the vote was counted, I was defeated, as I expected to be, but before the next campaign came on the Kansas-Nebraska troubles had entirely changed the sentiment of the district and there was a fair chance of a Whig to be elected. I was away ahead of all the other competitors because the people remembered me from my speeches and I got the nomination which resulted in the election and which sent me to congress. It may be the same with you—you can't tell what will happen. Public sentiment changes rapidly in the United States, and a new issue may spring up any day which may revolutionize the thought of other people.'"

BOARDMAN & GRAY PIANOS

ESTABLISHED 1837.

Sold continuously since 1870 at 219 Summit Street.

This make, sold in large numbers for more than 21 years by a reliable house, recommended and indorsed by nearly all of the best musicians and teachers in Toledo, has become a formidable barrier to the sale of other first-class pianos offered by competing dealers and their agents, by reason of their constantly increasing sale and popularity. Competitors, alarmed and uneasy, resort to many unreasonable as well as untrue statements, which they work off on confiding individuals, and cause them to be circulated in this city and elsewhere. Among these old chestnuts, is the statement that "The Whitney & Currier company manufacture the Boardman & Gray, or have a proprietary interest in their manufacture, and are actuated by that interest, to praise their merit and push their sale." The first part of this statement is untrue. This company has no proprietary interest in the manufacture of any piano. It is actuated in recommending the Boardman & Gray piano by the same motives which actuate any honest individual in recommending that which he knows to be of superior merit, and also by the same motives any one would have in pushing the sale of any successful meritorious article in which a reasonable profit may be realized, and that which is true of Boardman & Gray in this respect, is true of other makes this company has for sale. The superior facilities the Whitney & Currier company has in purchasing, enable it to give greater value for a like sum of money than can be had of its competitors. No other house can show an equal line of first-class Pianos, nor the number from which to select in making a purchase. All are invited to call and see for themselves, whether wishing to buy or not.

THE WHITNEY & CURRIER CO.,

Why Should Piano Dealers and Their Agents Go Out of Their Way to Decry the Superior Merits of the Boardman & Gray Pianos? The Reason is Obvious.

IT WENT WITH A CRASH

A Bridge Over the Licking Goes Down.

Ninety Workmen Carried Down to Death

Amid the Piles of Debris—Relief Parties Making Every Effort to Rescue the Unfortunate.

Cincinnati, June 15.—At 10:25 this morning the false work of the new bridge being built over the Licking river bewteen Covington and Newport fell, as mentioned in another column, carrying down with it 90 men.

The first estimate of the number of lives lost was 30, but late reports make the total number 88, among whom were Andrew and Albert Baird, the contractors. tors.

The construction of the bridge was begun early last fall and will be used for foot passenger and street railway traffic. Two piers have been completed and the work of fixing the heavy pieces of iron in place had begun. A track from the Newport side had been run out on the first pier to the heavy iron. The false work ran up 50 feet from the water.

But two men are known to have escaped with their lives. Not a stick of the false work, from pier to pier, remained and the river was filled with timbers and ironwork with scores of men struggling for life. News of the terrible accident spread rapidly and soon a crowd of hundreds had gathered and the work of rescuing the bodies was at once begun. By 12 o'clock 22 bodies had been taken out and the work was pushed with vigor. Cincinnati patrol wagons responded to a hurried call, and the dead and wounded were carried away as fast as taken out. The accident is supposed to be due to the heavy weight of the iron floor supports, the falsework not being strong enough.

The killed are as follows:

Dan Arnold, Rode Turwell, Jeffersonville, Ind.

Tom Downing, Wheeling, W. Va.

Vaughn Adams, Cincinnati.

Andy Baird and Albert Baird, of Canada, who were on a visit to inspect the work, and the latter had been at the works just two hours before the accident.

John O'Neil, Covington, Ky.

James Campau, of Canada.

William Harlan, Jeffersonville, Ind.

John S. Ponser, one arm taken off.

Fourteen dead bodies have been taken out on the Newport side and eight from the Covington side of the river.

D. Champoix, 122 Columbia street, Newport, dead. Came to Newport from Canada.

J. R. Ruby, Twelfth street, Newport, safe.

E. Barbour, laborer, home unknown, dead.

Andy Kobiger, home unknown, safe.

George Burge, home unknown, dead.

T. Lavin, laborer, home unknown, safe.

R. F. Kiel, home unknown. In the wreck.

N W. Burton, home unknown; body in the wreck.

Dennis Harlow, Parkersburg, W. Va., laborer, dead.

B. F. Phillips, home unknown; body in the wreck.

C. W. Pfafenback, dead; body in the the wreck.

W. C. Robey, dead, home unknown.

Henry Kramer, home unknown, body lost.

R. Krause, injured, home unknown.

E. D. Sullivan, lost, home unknown.

Dan Binkley, home unknown; lost.

Pat Murray, lost.

Thomas Down, Wheeling, W. Va., lost.

F. Muir, Bellevue street, Newport, body in the wreck.

Charles Fetter, home unknown, body lost.

H.Walage, home unknown, injured.

Wm. Alvis, dead.

The time-keeper could give no account of the following men:

Ben Arnold; J Collins; W. S. Saunders; G. E. Sheehan; E. E. Nolan; C. Gresham; Pat Murray; John Fagan; John Goldie; P. White; Brooks Conway; H. Thomas; Charles Wilkinson; Henry Osborn; H. Gardner, and B. Thomas.

When the crash came it was but a few moments until both banks were lined with people. A big portion of the false work was submerged and with it were the unfortunate workmen. The scene was a horrible one. In a minute the air was filled with shrieks of the injured and dying. Those who could free themselves from the tangled network of timber struggled to the surface of the water and tried to get ashore.

One after another gave up the desperate struggle and sank into the muddy water. Though the banks were crowded not a soul could go to the rescue of the men. As soon as possible police and volunteers went to work to get out the dead and dying. It was a growsome task. Among the first to be taken out was one of the Baird Brothers. His body was in a horrible condition, his back being crushed and broken. The next was John Sponser.

He was wedged in among a lot of timber on the Newport side. The man died a horrible death, a log weighing a couple of hundred pounds crashing through his abdomen, driving it through his back. The look of pain in his face was horrible, and silently told of the terrible pain the poor fellow suffered before he died.

One unknown man was taken out on the Covington side. He was found wedged in so tightly that a portion of his hand had to be chopped off before he could be taken out.

All of the dead bodies, as they were taken out presented terrible pictures. The bones were crushed, broken and splintered, in many instances were forced through the flesh, presenting a sickening sight.

The terrible calamity is due directly to the recent heavy rains.

The traveler was fully 70 feet high and the false work 60 feet. Two men were at work on the top cord of the false work when the crash came. They fell into the river but escaped with few scratches.

They were J. P. Lynch, colored, and Bruce Conas. Lynch fell with the bridge and landed on top of it. Conas fell underneath the work, but, singularly enough escaped with few bruises.

Their gentle action and good effect on the system really make them a perfect little pill. They please those who use them. Carter's Little Liver Pills may well be termed "Perfection."

AUSTRIA'S ACCEPTANCE.

She Will Attend the Monetary Conference.

Vienna, June 15.—Austria's acceptance of an invitation to the international bimetallic conference is made conditional on the Austro-Hungarian empire retaining complete liberty of action on the monetary question.

So far the action of Austria has shown the strongest determination to the adoption of a gold standard only, and when the question of a double standard was brought up before the committee of investigation, it was promptly and unanimously set aside as impracticable.

Upon the date when the law establishing a gold basis will go into effect, the new coinage will be put into circulation and become legal tender.

From that date every debtor will be at liberty to make payments in the new or old currency until such time as the latter has been withdrawn.

The gold ducats at present circulating in small numbers, and the so-called levant thalers for use in the east, are to be issued as heretofore.

A BOAT CLUB.

A WOMAN NEARLY STARVED!

Mistakes in Treatment Were Almost Fatal—Food Brought Back Strength and Health—Diet Suggestions for Invalids.

A sad case of starvation has come to light in Bernardston, Mass.

About ten years ago Mrs. A. C. Brooks of that town was taken seriously ill, and since that time has been an invalid.

The simplest kind of food was rejected by her weak stomach, and medicine had no good effect. She could not eat even broths or meat juice, and most of the time her stomach was so weak that it could not retain beef tea.

Nine different physicians attended her, and her case excited a great deal of interest among the medical profession. They agreed in saying that it was the most severe case of indigestion they had ever seen. It looked as though her days were numbered, for she was nearly starved to death. Yet when hope seemed lost, there came a change, and Mrs. Brooks states today:

"Dr. W. H. Pierce recommended me to use lactated food. I did so. Lactated food gave me health and strength, and my restoration is due to that alone."

There are many whose condition, though not so severe, is similar to that described above, where an easily digested, strengthening and appetizing food is an absolute necessity. In all weakened and debilitated conditions lactated food will give tone to the system, create an appetite, restore strength and hasten recovery. It is invaluable in fevers, dyspepsia and all wasting diseases. Invalids, dyspeptics, the aged, and all whose powers of digestion are weakened, find great good in this pure food.

Its basis is sugar of milk; with this is combined in proper proportions the nutritive qualities of the three great cereals, wheat, barley and oats. Like the good things of which it is composed, it costs so little as to be within the reach of all.

The manufacturers, Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt., invite correspondence on matters pertaining to dietetics. They will send free a pamphlet of rules for diet in dyspepsia, constipation, consumption, diabetes and other diseases where proper food is of more value to the patient than the nauseating and powerful drugs so commonly resorted to.

MALCOLM RUSSELL

Is Playing at the Broadway Theater, New York.

A Toledo Boy's Success—He is Also a Student at Proctor's School of Acting.

Malcolm Russell, of this city, who made his last appearance here in the comedy School, has decided to adopt the stage as a profession. He left Toledo about a month ago and entered the Proctor Theater School of Acting in New York.

He proved an apt pupil and was fortunate in securing a New York engagement that will not interfere with his day studies at the school.

He is playing in the new operatic success King Kalico at the Broadway theater, making a hit as the Chinese attendant, a chief boss under King Kalico.

Mr. Russell has talent and will be successful beyond a doubt. He is earnest, studious and goes at the thing in the right way.

He has the best wishes of his many Toledo friends.

JOSEPH FISH'S ASSAILANT

He Has Been Supplied With Able Counsel.

Additional Charges Against the Man Who Spoiled a Handsome Man's Face.

Chicago, June 16.—If it was a widow of considerable means, who, as alleged, instigated the recent brutal assault upon Joseph Fish, the wealthy dry goods merchant and society man, her identity is still a mystery. The case is again before Justice Lyon this morning, and Jerry Trumbley, the assailant, is as taciturn and morose as ever.

Somebody has provided him with able counsel, although he has no means of his own, and this fact is considered significant. Three additional charges have been filed against him, one being that of conspiring with persons unknown, and if he is convicted upon these charges he can be sent to Joliet for a period of twenty-five years.

A piece of chamois skin bound on the edges, shaped to fit the heel and kept in place by a piece of elastic rubber, worn over the stockings, will save much mending.

MERCIER'S HEALTH BROKEN

And His Property Being Taken Away.

Meeting of His Creditors in Montreal to Try and Get a Settlement of Some Kind.

Montreal, Que., June 16.—Quite a number of creditors of Ex-Premier Mercier are in town for the purpose of attending a meeting that has been called to consider what action shall be taken regarding his failure.

Except in a few extreme cases general sympathy is expressed for the ex-diplomat, whose health is so broken that it is feared he cannot long survive.

Although his creditors recently refused an offer of forty cents on the dollar, with the statement that they would eventually get the entire amount of their claims if his health were spared, it is doubtful whether a forced sale of the estate will realize more than sufficient to pay that dividend.

The principal property that Mercier has surrendered includes the family residence and contents on St. Denis street, what is known as the Tourouvre property at Ste Anne de la Parade and some real estate at St. Hyacinthe.

The total appraised value of these properties is $45,000, or $15,000 less than the liabilities. Efforts have been made to induce the creditors to leave the settlement of the estate to a board of trustees, with power to dispose of the properties to the best advantage of all concerned without making an actual sacrifice.

As for the unfortunate ex-premier who once rolled in wealth and was on the tip-top wave of personal popularity, his ruination, financial and social, is complete.

GLADSTONE RECEIVES.

London, June 16.—Mr. Gladstone gave audience to-day to a delegation from the parliamentary committee of the trades council for the purpose of receiving a number of demands of the English trades unions which they desired to be a part of the Liberal platform in the approaching parliamentary campaign.

At his own request the deputation was limited to 10 members. The chief argument made was in favor of an eight-hour bill. The ex-premier listened to the deputation attentively, but made no pledges.

WEDDING IN HIGH LIFE.

Boston, June 16.—The marriage of Miss Constance Lodge, daughter of Henry Cabot Lodge, and Mr. Augustus Gardner was solemnized here to-day in the presence of a large and fashionable assemblage. The gifts of the bride, who has been one of the belles of Massachusetts for the past few seasons, were remarkably numerous and costly.

It is said that a wet silk handkerchief tied without folding over the face is a complete security against suffocation by smoke; it permits free breathing and at the same time, excludes the smoke from the face.

Wheat Quotations for the Day —Price Currents for Produce and Other Articles.

Wheat has ruled steady and only moderately active at times, nothing of interest developing to move market more than 5-8c either way. A weekly grain paper says the last week has been decidedly favorable for crops, planting and replanting. Old grain has been marketed more freely. All winter wheat advices quite as favorable as before and spring wheat doing well. It gives exportable surplus 160,000,000 bushels, including 25,000,000 from last crop. New York advices say that the prospects for the Russian crop are favorable and that Paris market is weak and sales can not be effected without material concessions. Kansas wires that 48 hours more of the intense heat and hot winds will do immense damage.

The second batch of Russian news, this time from London, states that the outlook is bad and that exports will be renewed in a few days. Exports to-day equalled 629,000 bu, including 695,000 packages of flour. Liverpool closes 1-2d lower on California wheat, but unchanged on futures. London closed 1 1-2d up. Berlin 3-4 mark lower and Paris 35 centimes lower on flour and 15 lower on wheat.

Corn closed firmer, after a light pay. The grading is very poor at all receiving points and that makes few sellers of futures. July started at 48 and closed at 49 1-4. Cash sales include No. 2 at 48 1-2, No. 3 at 47, No. 4 at 42, No. 3 white at 50 and no inspection at 10, 19 and 26c.

Ohio Crop Bulletin.

Columbus, June 16.—The following bulletin has been issued from the state department of agriculture, co-operating with the United States signal service:

Over the northern section the rainfall and temperature were above, and sunshine below the average.

Over the middle section the rainfall and temperature were above, and sunshine the average.

Over the southern section the rainfall and temperature were above, and sunshine below the average.

Over the northern section continued wet conditions retarded farm work and corn planting the greater part of the week, and proved very injurious over many counties to the growing crops on low lands. Very little corn was put in, and that in very muddy ground. Wheat and grass are growing rank and falling down. Oats are generally in fair condition. Some wheat and oats are turning yellow at roots on low ground. Corn already up is getting very weedy and needs cultivation. Potatoes are reported rotting badly. The fruit is falling off generally and apples, cherries and pears promise a very light crop. The week ends with better conditions, and a more favorable report is anticipated for the coming week.

Over the middle section wet conditions during the early portions of the week retarded farm work greatly and rendered the ground too wet in many of the counties to permit farm work of any amount to be done during the week. Wheat generally continues to grow too rank and is lodging in many counties under the influence of the heavy rains, hail and wind. The plant is heading out well. Oats are growing nicely, and are in good condition generally. Clover is reported as falling down and damaged in a few counties by heavy rains. The timothy is coming on finely. Grass is growing nicely and is in fair condition. Corn is doing fairly well, although getting pretty weedy and standing in need of cultivation. Over the eastern counties a good per cent. has been plowed over once. Fruit continues to fall off and the apple crop promises to be very light. Cherries are rotting.

Over the southern section heavy rains on the 7th and 9th, with hail, caused considerable damage to the growing wheat, and overflowed bottom lands, causing damage to all growing crops in a number of the southeastern counties. Generally the conditions are very favorable, causing all crops to improve and make a great growth. Wheat, timothy, clover and oats are doing finely, with clover nearly ready to cut in a few counties and the wheat changing color. Wheat is generally pretty rank and has lodged considerably. The barley harvest is in full progress in Pike county. The tobacco plant is being set and growing well. The corn generally is looking and doing well, although weeds are growing pretty rank. Some counties report cultivation two and three times. Apples continue to fall off and cherries to rot.

Michigan Crop Report.

Lansing, Mich., June 16.—The Michigan crop report for June shows the condition of wheat as compared with average years as 92 per cent., which is better, with one exception, than in any year since 1885. The acreage of corn planted is not up to the average, owing to the large rainfall, it being 82 per cent. in the state. The acreage of oats and barley is 12 per cent. below the average, and the average condition of the state is 86 per cent. The outlook for a full crop of apples and peaches is better than the six years past, the figures for the former being 102, and the latter 95 per cent. of an average crop.

Ginghams and prints were selling more freely. Nothing further took place in the way of revisions in bleached cottons, although tomorrow Fruit of the Loom 7-8 and 4-4 bleached will be reduced by an extra discount of 2 1-2 per cent. for a few days only. A few other changes will probably follow as a matter of form. Prints and print cloths continue under a very fair tone.

The Pueblo Indians worship through the medium of "prayer sticks." In sheltered ravines about Pueblo town are many of these sticks implanted upright in the ground, each with a tuft of downy feathers at the top. The form of the stick varies according to the nature of the prayer, each stick representing a petition.

IN THE BUSINESS OF REVOLUTION.

The Englishman imagines that revolution and treason are serious affairs and must be conducted with set teeth and grave face. Not so the men of the Latin races. To them revolutions are like race meetings, with a certain amount of danger added. This attitude is well exhibited by a story which an able observer and critic of continental politics during a former generation was fond of relating. The political critic in question was engaging an apartment in one of the chief streets in Paris. The landlady, wishing, like all landladies, to make the best of her rooms, led him to one of the principal windows, and, as she swung back the Venetian blinds, remarked: "C'est par ici, Monsieur, que nous voyons passer nos revolutions." The good woman was no cynic, but spoke from her heart, and just as an English landlady who harps upon the splendid view of the sea from the two-pair front. An Englishman feels disgraced at the idea of recurrent revolution. Not so a Frenchman or a Spaniard.—The Spectator.

SAVE THE BIRDS.

A Plea for the Feathered Songsters That It Does No Good to Kill.

"The gun should not be used on birds of any kind that are not useful for food, and nothing will excuse the killing of feathered game between May and September. But the boy wants his fun afield, his woodland rambles and his share of sport. Very good. Take him afield and through the woods unarmed, and let him practice his observation and study the infinite varietyof wild, happy life abounding everywhere. Let him find the cunningly-hidden nests in grass or tree, and gaze on callow young and dainty eggs, and make him keep his hands off the treasures he may find. Teach him that it is manliest to search, find, look and learn without doing hearm. Far to many well-meaning people encourage their boys in collecting eggs and nests, under the delusion that the boys are doing no harm and are imbibing useful scientific information. Not one boy in a thousand either derives any benefit from egg-collecting or half completes his collection. He simply robs a lot of nests, collects a few eggs, then wearies of the passing whim and tosses aside the useless spoils. If your boy wants sport in June, give him a rod and tackle and let him go to the hurrying trout-stream and fill his basket of toothsome beauties; or, to where the river-pools are broad and shadowy and game black bass await his skill. Never fear that his morals will be tainted by Nature's touch; there is nothing of evil in the forest; its influences are as wholesome as its atmosphere, and the teachings of the stream ar eas pure and sweet as its limpid current and tinkling fall."—Ed. W. Sandys, in Outing for June.

Mulberry wood, the Doylestown (Pa.) Intelligencer asserts, is the most durable material of which to make fenceposts. It tells of a farm near Strode's mill, Chester county, fenced with this material 95 years ago, the posts being still in good condition. They now support their sixteenth set of rails.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S CROWN.

A Great Mass of Jewels of Inestimable Value.

If Queen Victoria were compelled to wear the beautiful crown, of which she is so worthy, all the time, she would be a woman greatly to be pitied and never to be envied, for that magnificent affair weighs nearly two pounds. "Uneasy lies the head that wears the crown" is a proverb easily understood when one realizes this; and yet when one considers what the crown of the Queen contains, it ought not to be difficult to realize that it is heavy. It holds more than 3,000 precious stones, more than 2,700 of which are diamonds. The golden head-band holds two rows of pearls, the lower having 129 and the upper 112 of these treasured stones. Between these bands in front is a large sapphire, and behind is a small sapphire—small only when compared with the one in front, however—with 6 still smaller ones, and 8 emeralds. Between the sapphires fore and aft are ornaments containing 286 diamonds. Surmounting the band are 8 sapphires, above which are 8 diamonds, and 8 festoons holding 160 diamonds, and in the front, set in a Maltese cross composed of 75 large diamonds, is the magnificent ruby given to the Black Prince in 1367 by Pedro, King of Castile, and which was worn by that dashing monarch Henry V. on his helmet at the battle of Agincourt.

In addition to these, three crosses containing 386 diamonds are set around the upper part of the crown, between which are four ornaments, each holding a ruby in its center, and containing respectively 84, 86, 85, and 87 diamonds. From the crosses rise four arches composed of oak leaves and acorns, the oak leaves containing 728 diamonds, and theacorns —32 in number—made each of a single pearl set in cups composed of diamonds. Surmounting the arches is the base of the cross which surmounts the whole The base, or mound, as it is called, contains 548 diamonds, and the cross—the crowning glory of all this magnificence—contains a huge sapphire and 112 diamonds.

Of course, anything so grand as this is worth a great deal of money, and the value placed upon it by experts is $1,500,000—although it may be doubted if any one could buy it for twice that amount. It is kept in a great iron cage, along with the other crown-jewels, in the Tower of London, which is at all times strongly guarded, as well it may be, for with the rest of the precous stones and crowns and other valuables comprising the regalia, the contents of the cage are estimated as being worth £3,000,000, or $15,000,000.—Harper's YoungPeople.

ITALY'S QUEEN.

The Queen of Italy, once one of the most beautiful girls in the kingdom, is now one of its handsomest women, says an exchange. She is bright and witty in conversation, and leans, with a leaning toward blue-stockingism, but without pendantry. She is universally admired and loved by her subjects, and the attachment King Humbert has for her is a rare example of conjugal devotion in a royal household.

A. O. H.

All members of the above order in the city are requested to meet at Druid hall at 8 o'clock a. m., Friday, 17th inst., to attend the funeral of the late Brother N. Mathews. Full regalia and white gloves.
